INTRODUCTION

GENEALOGY is a fascinating subject and one which has always interested me. Several years ago I made a visit to Merrimac and Amesbury with my wife to see what we could learn of her ancestors. We procured considerable information, to which we added much afterward. About two years ago it occurred to me that it would be of interest to carry this further, and, if sufficient material could be procured, to publish it for the information of the family and any others who might be interested. Accordingly I set about the task of endeavoring to locate and get the record of all Patten families who trace their line back to William Patten, who was of Cambridge in 1635. I have succeeded beyond my expectations, and have been able to follow out the lines more fully than I anticipated. I have got much assistance from county and town histories and records, as well as from genealogies of allied families. Of these I will mention particularly the Roberdeau Genealogy, in which is given a full account of the Patten family, who became connected with them by marriage; also the Sargent Genealogy to which I am indebted for those families of Amesbury and vicinity who married into that family.

I have been much indebted to Rev. C. H. Pope, whose long experience in preparing genealogies has been of great assistance to me. I regret that his researches for me in England in 1907 failed to discover any definite and positive trace of the family before coming to this country.

I wish also here to express my thanks to the members of the family who in many cases have responded so freely to the inquiries I have made, and who have been ready to furnish and ascertain anything that might assist me. Some families will be found to be incomplete. This is due to two causes: one, lack of information about parties who could furnish the material; another, neglect of parties, who were able to furnish the material, but failed to reply to inquiries made of them; the number of these is very small.

Errors very likely may be found, but in a work of this size it is difficult not to have some occur; but I trust that I have kept them at a minimum. In some cases I have found two different dates for the same event. This may account for some apparent discrepancies.

In closing, perhaps, I cannot do better than to quote a paragraph I once saw in a genealogy, the author being given as B. L. Swan. He said: "There is no perfect genealogical work extant, nor can one be made. The causes of error are many and difficult to avoid."

PATTEN GENEALOGY

WILLIAM PATTEN OF CAMBRIDGE

FIRST GENERATION

The origin and location of the ancestry of William Patten has always been an open question. There are traditions regarding the family in England, but, in his case, there is no evidence in support of them. It is reported that a family of Pattens were in the north of England and went from there to Scotland in the fifteenth century, and about a century later some of their descendants went to the north of Ireland. Such a theory may be correct regarding the Pattens who came to this country in the eighteenth century, as they are stated to have come from Scotland and from Ireland.

A survey of Great Britain at the time of the settlement of New England shows but a few places where the name of Patten occurs to any very great extent. One of these was Lancaster County. In the parish of Warrington, sixteen miles east from Liverpool, there was a family of Pattens, and it was from this neighborhood that many settlers came to Dorchester and its vicinity. It is also from this region that the William Patten went who was Bishop of Winchester and founder of Magdalen College. The latter is a man who is claimed by most of the Pattens in this country as their ancestor, but I have so far failed to find any proof which could connect them with him. The earliest will to be found in this region is that of Thomas Patten, of Warrington, in 1579. After this we find no other wills until 1653, when one Thomas Patten, of Warrington, made his will and in it expressed gratitude to his brother William for various kind favors and appointed him as his executor. This could hardly have been our William, for as he had already been in this country at least eighteen years it is not probable that he would at that time have been appointed an executor of a will in England.

Another locality where there were many Pattens was the county of Somerset, and it is to this family that I am inclined to think our William belonged. Nothing has been found to show by what vessel he came here, and if this point could be established a clue would perhaps be furnished to his residence before coming to this country.

We find also traditions in the family, not only in one branch but in many, that three brothers came to this country and settled in different places. This is a tradition that can be found to exist in a large number of New England families. This fact as far as this family is concerned is not supported by any evidence. Besides William Patten there seems to have been but one other of that name mentioned in the records of that time. This was Nathaniel Patten, who settled in Dorchester. Nathaniel Patten came from Crewkerne (Crucis urna, the place of the cross), in the county of Somerset, England, and while he may possibly have been related in some way to our William, yet there is no evidence that he was a brother. In fact the evidence is to the contrary. There is evidence existing to show clearly how and when he came to this country. In the note-book of Thomas Lechford, an attorney of that time, there is a legal document in which Nathaniel's former residence is stated and particulars as to his coming over as one of the charterers of the ship Charles of Bristol, in which he sailed on the 18th of June, 1640.

In the note-book referred to is a notice of an account for which he brought suit against the undertakers of the ships Charles of Bristol and the Hopewell of London. The last items in the bill were as follows:

Itm for a bag of hoppes spoyled by the raine because some of the undertakers gave orders it should not be received aboard	6	12	6
Itm for a nimming sheet and rugg lent unto the Steward Robert Ring for the undertakers use	2	8	0
Itm for a cabbin bought in the ship because I had not convenience in the ship according to agreement for myselfe & family	1	10	0
Itm for a womans pillion lost in the ship Hopewell	0	10	0
Itm costs & charges att Bristoll from the 24th of May till the 18th of June for myselfe & family because att the said 24th day we should have bin gone	5	0	0
Itm they undertooke to victuall the said ship Charles for 16 weekes & to carry but 150 passingers, but they carryed in the sayd ship a great many more passingers to my remembrance, and they the passingers were debarred of our beere & water before landing & if we had bin put to a long voyage we must needs have suffered much more than we did, wch I leave to the consideration of the Cort

He settled in Dorchester and was a prominent citizen there and was interested in considerable real estate. In Suffolk Registry of Deeds, under date of July 21, 1671, we find that Nathaniel Patten, of Dorchester, in the county of Suffolk, appointed his "trusty and welbeloved kinsman Thomas Patten of Bristoll nowe resident in Boston" his true and lawful attorney to act in all business matters for him. This Thomas Patten probably did not remain here permanently, as there is no further evidence of him after the settlement of the estate of Nathaniel. Nathaniel Patten died Jan. 31, 1661. He left no surviving children that there is any record of. He left no will, but his wife Justine made a will dated January 2, 1673. In this she mentions different relatives to whom she left property, but no children. December 14, 1674, an agreement was entered into between Benjamin Bale, of Dorchester, and Thomas Patten, attorney for his father John Patten of Severalls in the parish of Crewkern within the realm of England, referring to the settlement of the estate of Nathaniel Patten, of Dorchester. This agreement refers to Benjamin Bale as being Nathaniel Patten's sister's son, and provided that all his estate outside of what the court had set aside for the widow should be divided into two equal parts; one part to be given to Benjamin Bale and the other part to Thomas Patten, attorney for John Patten, for the use of said John Patten and any other person concerned with him. By this agreement also a division of the real estate was made, one part being set off to Benjamin Bale in consideration of his delivering to Thomas Patten sometime the next summer one load of fresh hay. The other part was set off to Thomas Patten in consideration of his paying to Benjamin Bale 59 pounds.

In England we find the will of Thomas Patten, of Crewkern, in Somerset County, and he was clearly the father of Nathaniel. In this will, which was dated March 27, 1629, mention is made of his nephews Robert and Thomas Patten; also his sons John, Thomas and Nathaniel; also his daughters Sarah, Joane and Elizabeth, and his brother John, but the name of William nowhere appears in this family, thus showing I think plainly that William and this Nathaniel were not brothers.

In Somersetshire we find the will of one Thomas Petten of Hardington Manfylde (Mandeville), Somerset, which I give here.

" In the Name of God Amen.

" The ninth daie of November in the second year of the Raigne of our Soveraigne lord Charles by the grace of god King of England, Scotland, Fraunce and Ireland defender of the faith, Anno Domini One thousand sixe hundred twentie sixe I Thomas Petten of Hardington Manfylde in the Countie of Somset, carpenter, being verie sick of my body, but pfect of remembraunce thankes bee given to god therefore doe make my last will & testamt as followeth ffirst I give and bequeath my soule unto the allmightie god whoe gave it and is my maker and Redeemer of all mankind and my bodie to bee buried in the church yard of Hardington Manfyld. Item I give and bequeath unto four said (aforesaid) sonne William Petten one white calfe, one spitt, one Pyckeaxe, one cofer, my best wearing clotheres, my bedd, a Coverled and one paire of dowlish sheets. Item I give and bequeath unto my daughter Jone Petten a debt of neere eleaven pounds of lawful money of England and the bill obligatory for the same debt wch debt is in the hands of one William Joye of Lie and one little cawtherne, one cofer and my old cloke. Item I give and bequeath unto my sonne Andrewe Petten All my carpenters working tooles; alsoe I the said Thomas Petten doe ordaine and make my two daughters Margaret Petten and Anne Petten to bee my whole executors joyntly and equallie and shall have all the Residue of my goods and chattells whatsoever wch is not given nor bequeathed upon this my last will and Testament. In witness hereof I have here unto sett my hand and seale the daie and yeare first above written.

"Signed sealed and published in the presents of us John Marsh, John Apley, John Marsh the younger.

"Proved at London 10 May 1627."

Here we find a William Patten mentioned who may have been our pioneer. The county of Somerset was essentially a farming country, and what would be more natural than that one coming from such a country should be selected by the inhabitants of Cambridge as a proper person and one well fitted to take the care of their town cattle. Unfortunately for us the parish registers for that vicinity in England are not in existence for that period. The Hardington Mandeville registers only go back to the year 1687.

Another question that has been raised is whether there is any coat of arms of the family. I have found, in several branches, what has been held to be a Patten coat of arms, and while I have seen two or three of these, I have found no two of them exactly alike, and probably others, of which I have heard but not seen, have the same dissimilarity. Not every family in England was entitled to bear arms, and I am inclined to the opinion that the Somersetshire Pattens, being a farming class, were not of those who had this right, and consequently there is no true coat of arms of this branch of the family.

The first mention of William Patten to be found in this country is in the Cambridge Town Records under date of March 13, 1635-36, when the following vote was passed:

"Agreed Wth William Patten to kepe 100 Cattell one the otherside the Riuer for the space of seauen Mounthes to begine when the Towne shall appoint him and to haue Twenty pounds the one halfe paid him In Monny when he hath kept halfe his tyme and the other halfe In Corne when he hath done keeping at the price wch the Comon Rate of Corne goeth when he is to be paid and he is to haue a man to help him the first 14 days he payinge him for one weeke the Towne for the other alsoe he is to lodg ther exsept once a weeke and to haue a man to keepe them every other Saboth day and hee to pay x*s* a beast for every beast he shall loese and to keepe noe Cattell of anny man exsept the Townsmen give leaue vpon the forfetuer of 5*s* a head for every head he shall soe keepe."

In 1638 there appears the following record:

"Agreed with wm. Patten to keepe three score ( ) cowes more or lesse vnder 4 score att the direction of the Townsmen for all this sumr vntill they take them in att 10*s* a weeke the one halfe to be pd in the first weeke in July eithr in monie or good corne & thothr halfe when he leaveth of keeping them in monie & those that Refuse to paye in monie shall paye in corne att the price that it is att when it is merchantable he is to pay 3*d* for eur cowe he leaveth out a night & x*s* a cowe for eurie one that is lost through his Defaulte he is to take noe oth cattell without the townsmens consent he is to dryve them out by six of the clock in the morning & bring them home by sunn halfe an houre high att night at the latest & to bring them into the towne eure Evening he is to keepe them but eurie third Sabt & thoth to be prvided for as in former tyme & whoe eur shall bring in anie strange cattell shall synde a helpe for 2 or 3 dayes & the owners to bring them into the common eure morning by the tyme appoynted & his owne cow to be kept free as long as he keepeth them & he is to pay 6*d* damage for eurie morning that he is not gone out by the tyme appoynted."

In 1646 we find that Brother Patten was fined for one hog without keeper thrice 1*s*.

On the 20th day of the 3d month, 1649, we find that Andrew Stevenson and William Patten were appointed to execute the town order concerning hogs, and to levy on all such as shall be found breaking that order the just penalty of the same therein prescribed. In the same year liberty was granted some of the townsmen, among them William Patten, for the present hay time to mow the Common meadow at Shawshine, " prvided they intrench uppon noe prpriety."

On two or three different occasions we find him appointed as one of the surveyors of fences, his district being that about the Menotomy fields. He was also appointed surveyor of highways on one or two occasions.

The Common, as it was called, was well timbered, for we find that when any one wished for lumber he went to the selectmen for permission to get it from the Common. In 1660, at a meeting of the selectmen, several people, among them William Patten, were granted liberty to take timber to repair their fences and for " reparaccon " of their houses. In 1663 he was granted liberty to take timber from the Common for a cart, and at another time for a cow-house and half a hundred " rayles." In November, 1665, he was granted liberty to fell timber to build a lean-to and an end to his barn; and in 1668 to " repayre his old house at towne." He did not always ask for permission, for in 1662, we find that he was fined 20*s* for felling trees on the Common contrary to town orders. Fines levied by the selectmen were sometimes abated, for in 1663 we find that a fine imposed upon William Patten was abated 5*s*.

In 1642 we find William Patten enrolled as a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston.

William Patten lived on what is now Massachusetts Avenue, opposite the Common. We find in the Proprietors Records that William Patten had " One house and garden. about halfe an Acre upon the Cow Common, John means East, Cow Common South, thomas Blogget west pine swampe North."

" In the new Lotts next Manotomie two Acres of planteing grounde Persivall Greene East, Willam Manning west Richard Champnies South, Gregory Stone North."

In 1645 forty-seven lots on west side of Menotomy River were granted to the several inhabitants of the Town. In this distribution William Patten had " Three Acr more or lesse, Richard francis East Daniell Kempster West, Charlestowne lyne north Comon south."

A reference to the accompanying plan will give an idea of the location of his place. In 1901 the City of Cambridge published their early town records and with them a plan of the place in 1635 which had been compiled from the best sources obtainable. By the courtesy of the City Clerk I am able to reproduce that plan here.

June 9, 1652, an agreement was made by the Church as to the division of Shawshine. In this William Patten was assigned Lot 87, containing ninety acres. Although by the generosity of the Church all the inhabitants received allotments of the Shawshine lands, comparatively few established a residence there. Although the name of William Patten appears often in the matters of land distribution in the settlement of Billerica, yet it is doubtful if he ever took up his residence there, but remained in Cambridge until his death. As early as 1655 there were so many householders there that they were incorporated as a distinct town named Billerica. The town records, January 29, 1654–55, show that, in answer to a letter sent them by their neighbors of Shawshine, alias Billerica, wherein they desire that the whole tract may be disengaged from this place and be one entire body by itself, a committee of five was appointed, who drew up an agreement for a separation, and this was consented to by William Patten and others present, inhabitants of Shawshine. This agreement, or Great Deed, as it is called, has been carefully preserved by the town of Billerica, and bound between two covers which bear the inscription: "The Great Deed from the Cambridge Proprietors to the Billerica Proprietors, 1654."

The body of the deed reads as follows:

"To ALL PEOPLE to whome these prsents shall come Greeting KNOW YE that wee whose names are Subscribed FOR Sundry good consideracions us thereunto moving and for valluable consideracions to us respectively paid well & truly the recite whereof wee do by these prsents respectively acknowledge and therewth to be fully sattesfied & payd and thereof and of every part & parcell thereof do fully clearely and absolutely acquitt exonerate & discharge the Inhabitants of Billerica their heyres successors Ex'ors administratours and Assignees forever by their prsent HAVE given granted bargained sold aliened enfeoffed and confirmd unto & by these prsents do fully clearly and absolutely give grant bargain & sell alien enfeofe & confirme unto the Inhabitants of Billerica aforesaid their heyres assignes &

This is the foundation upon which the Town of Billerica was started, and to this document the name of William Patten with others was signed. I here reproduce the document, so that his descendants may see his name as he wrote it. The name may be seen in the fifth column, about half-way down.

He married before coming to this country Mary ——, who died Sept. 20, 1673.

William Patten died December 10, 1668. He left no will, but on April 2, 1669, his wife filed with the court the following inventory of his property:

SECOND GENERATION

2. THOMAS [2] (William [1]) was born in Cambridge October, 1636; m. Rebecca Paine, of Dedham, April 1, 1662, the daughter of Thomas and Rebecca Paine; born October 19, 1642. She died May 19, 1680. He married second, Sarah Dunton, of Reading, May 20, 1686. Her name by some authorities is given as Didson or Ditson, but the name of Dunton is that given by the Billerica records. In 1654 Thomas Patten went to Billerica to live and resided there until his death. His house was west of Long Street, south of the Common, near the house of Francis Richardson. He did not seem to take an active part in the public affairs of the town, but he owned considerable land there at the time of his death. He also owned an interest in a sawmill near Pattenville.

In the treasurer's accounts of the town for the year 1664, we find that Ralph Hill, Sen., and Thomas Patten are charged thirteen shillings each for " not traininge."

Billerica being a frontier settlement, there was great fear of the Indians and much dread of an attack from them. In 1675 an order was passed by the selectmen and committee of the militia appointing garrison houses and assigning citizens to them. We make the following extract from the order:

" 5. They appoint Thomas Pattin's house for garrison & to entertaine Goldin Moore, Samuel ffrost, Jno. Kidder, Roger Toothaker & John Trull; seven soldiers & five families."

In the same order overseers were appointed for each garrison, whose duty it was to regulate the work of the garrison and determine what should be done for fortifying them.

Orders were also issued putting strict regulations on the conduct of the citizens, and giving instructions as to what should be done in case of an attack by the Indians. A master was also appointed for each garrison, Thomas Patten being appointed for his house.

He died January 16, 1690. His widow married for her second husband, Thomas Richardson, December 29, 1690. Just previous to his death he made a will which was as follows:

"The last Will and Testiment of Thomas Pattin of Billerica, aged about fifty four, January 14th. 1689-90.

"I, Thomas Pattin, being very weak of body, yet of perfect memory, and of a disposing mind do make & ordaine my last will & testiment, as followeth:

Impr. I committ my poor immortall soul, into the hands of god that gave it, and my body to the earth, to a decent buriall, at the discretion of my executors. also I will that my just and due debts, may be forth with discharged, together with the charge of my funerall. and as for ye dispose of that little estate which ye lord hath lent me, I do thus dispose of it. I do give to my dear wife Sarah at her own dispose, all the houselstuffe and cattle she brought with her to mee, or ye vallue of them, with a feather-bed & great brass kittle & cobirons, which shee did help purchase since she came to mee; and three pound of money, which was Silver she lent me. Also I give to her, ye sole use and benefit of half my dwelling house, & half the barne, the west end of each; with the orchard & yard roome sufficient and halfe my plow land, in that lot which was Jacob Brownes homested and all my feild & paster lying north of Samuell ffrost's house, with my horse, two oxen, two cowes at her choice; cart & plow, and utinsells thereof, with all my meadow in broad meadow, on ye west of concord bridg; and all my Shawshin meadow lot to be enjoyed by her, & to be to her use, so long as shee remaines my widdow, & in case shee should againe chang her condition by marriage, then shee shall have twenty pounds out of my estate to be at her dispose; besides what was mentioned before; and to enjoy ye aforesaid housing and lands & Cattle &c. until my youngest son Kindall be twelve years old, or twelve yeares from ye date hereof, which is for ye bringing up of my four younger children; and then ye said housing & lands & cattell to returne to my children, as I shall after order. I do will that my wholl estate both personall and real be equally divided among all my children, (excepting only as abovesaid) only to ye eldest son a double portion. To my eldest son Thomas, I give my lot called ye 2d divissions, with my meadow at ye great meadow upon horse brook, and my acre of swamp meadow, near andover meadows; with my acre of meadow at prospect hill, & my interest in fort wall meadow. To my son Nathaniel I give my wholl interest at horse plaine, each lands to be taken by an apprissall, & what wants of their proportion, to be made up out of ye rest of my estate, & in Case of overplus, to be returned to ye rest of my children. My Sons, William & Kindall shall have their portions out of my homested with sutable meadow to it, my son William shall continue with my dear wife & be at her dispose untill he shall be twenty one years of age, my stock of catell and houselstuffe shall be at ye dispose of my executors, for ye bringing up of my children, untill they come of age to receive it, and in case of any difference that may arise among my children concerning any divisions respecting this my estate I do nominate and fully impower my Brother Nathaniel Patten, Capt. Ralp Hill and lieutnt Joseph Tompson, (any two of them agreeing) to make a finall issue of such difference. lastly, I do Nominate & impower my dear wife and my son william pattin, to be joint executors to this my will, and my sons shall enjoy their training arms without apprisall & Kindall my carbine. This instrument I do declare to be my last Will & testiment. witness my hand and seall January the fourteenth in ye year of our Lord God one thousand six hundred eighty & nine & ninety.

3. NATHANIEL [2] (William [1]) was born in Cambridge July 29, 1643; married Nov. 24, 1669, Rebecca Adams. She was the daughter of John and Anne Adams. John Adams is believed to be the sixth son of Henry Adams, of Braintree, one of the first settlers in the west part of Cambridge. She died Dec. 18, 1677. He married, second, Oct. 8, 1678, Sarah Cooper. She died and he married, third, Oct. 15, 1711, Sarah Hancock, who was daughter of Nathaniel and Mary (Prentice) Hancock and was born Aug. 23, 1667. He died at Cambridge, June 12, 1725.

Nathaniel Patten seems to have been very prominent in town affairs, holding different offices at various times, such as field-driver, hog-reeve, surveyor of highways, and fence-viewer for the "Menotomy feilds." In 1682 he was appointed town constable, and in 1683 was chosen tithing-man.

Like his father, he did not always ask permission when he wished for lumber, for we find that in 1671 John Adams, Nathaniel Patten, Jonathan Dunster and Joseph Holmes appeared before the selectmen and were convicted of felling wood on the Common, and were fined 10*s* each for their default.

In 1675 he was granted timber for a pair of wheels, and in 1677 he was granted liberty to fell two trees for rails, and a tree for posts and a tree for a ground sill; and again in 1682 he was granted six trees for ground sills for his house and barn, and a tree for clapboards for his barn, and two trees for his out fence. Several other times his name appears in this connection. In 1683 it is recorded that he went into the Common Swamp with others and found fifteen loads of wood cut without permit, and they brought the trespassers before the selectmen and they were fined.

April 20, 1685, Abraham Holman and Nathaniel Patten were chosen "overseers of the flocke of sheep, for the providing of a shepherd and foulding of the sheep and Carefully to Inspect them in all Consernes." He was again chosen to this duty in the following year.

At this time he was interested in the alewife fishery, for we find that on April 13, 1685, the selectmen voted to "lett the ware to nathaniel Patten, the ware & feild for 30*s* the yeare and if the fish doth not Come up according to expectation the Selectmen promise to abate him what they shall see cause." Evidently the fish were not running well that year, for at the latter end of the year they agree to abate him ten shillings; "& to pay twenty shillings for ye yeare past & twenty shilling for ye yeare befor."

In 1686 the selectmen made choice of him to look after the gate at Notomie Bridge and the cross fence for the ensuing year, and he was to have the rent of the " ware " allowed him and was ordered to hang the gate by the first day of May.

In 1693 it was voted to sell some of the Common lands to raise money to pay some debts due, and he was chosen one of a committee to attend to the sale.

He served in King Phillip's War, being in Capt. Nathaniel Davenport's company.

WILL OF NATHANAEL PATTEN OF CAMBRIDGE

" In the name of God amen the thirty first day of December 1722. I Nathanael Pattin of Cambridge in the county of Middlesex in New England Husbandman being aged and weak in Body but of perfect mind and memory thanks be given to God therefore calling to mind the mortallity of my body and knowing 'tis appointed for all men once to dye do make and ordain this my last Will and Testament; That is to say principally and first of all I give and recommend my Soul to God that gave it and my body I recommend to the earth to be buried in decent Christian Burial at the Discretion of my Executors nothing doubting but at the general Resurrection I shall receive the same again by the Almighty power of God. And as touching all Worldly estate wherewith it hath pleased God to bless me in this life I give Devise and dispose of the same in the following manner and form.

" Imprs. My Just Debts and funeral Charges being first paid I give and bequeath to Sarah my dearly beloved wife the best room in my now dwelling-house and Liberty of doing her work in the middle Room and a quarter part of the Cellar under the best room and I give her five pounds a year to be paid yearly out of my Real Estate in money or goods that best suit her occasion and the keeping of a good milch Cow during her natural life; and I give her all that money which I received as a Legacy out of her hond father Hancock's Estate and also a third part of my moveable Estate and a mourning suit of apparel at my decease all which to be at her dispose forever.

"Item. I give to my eldest son Nathanael Patten one half of all my Lands situate both in Cambridge and Charlestown (except one acre hereafter mentioned) and one half of my Barns to be his and his heirs and assigns forever he or they paying and performing the one half of what I have given to my Wife and paying Seventy five pounds of the Legacies hereafter mentioned; and he or they doing one half to the maintaining my son Samuel and giving him a decent Burial at death.

"Item. I give to my Grandson Joseph Russel when he comes of age the other half of my Lands situate as above said and my now Dwelling house and the other half of my Barns &c. my Team and all my Utensils for husbandry to be his and his heirs and assigns forever he or they paying and performing the one half of what I have given to my wife and paying forty six pounds ten shillings of the Legacies hereafter mentioned and he or they doing one half to the maintaining my son Samuel and giving him a decent burial at Death.

"Item. I give unto my son William Patten five shillings money which with what I have formerly given him (and considering what he has had of father Adams) it shall be the full of his and his heirs Portion.

"Item. I give unto my daughter Anne Eames twenty pounds money to be paid out of my Real Estate which with what she hath already received of me (and of father Adams formerly) shall be the full of her and her heirs Portion.

"Item. I give unto my daughter Elisabeth Russel five shillings which with what she has already had of me shall be the full of her and her heirs portion.

"Item. I give unto my daughter Hannah Patten forty pounds money out of my Real Estate which shall be her and her heirs Portion.

" Item. I give unto my Grandchildren (the children of my son John Patten deceased) namely Luxford Patten seven pounds money and to John Patten seven pounds money and to Margaret Patten six pounds money when they shall come of age to be paid out of my Real Estate which with what I have given to their father is their Portion.

" Item. I give to my Grandchildren (the children of Rebecca Squire deceased) namely to John Squire five pounds money and to Rebecca Squire five pounds money and to Sarah Squire five pounds money out of my Real Estate which with what their mother has formerly had is the full of their Portion.

" Item. I give to my Grandchildren the children of Sarah Hawkins Twenty six pounds that is to say thirteen pounds to each of them when they come of age which with what their mother had is the full of their Portion.

" Furthermore my Will is that if my Grandson Joseph Russel dye leaving no Issue then what I have given him shall be equally divided amongst my Grandsons. And my Will is that if I purchase a piece of meadow land hereafter (as I have thought to do of Mr. Symmes) and my Grandson Joseph Russel assist me in paying for the same so that there be no debts thereby contracted to my other Estate then my Will is that said meadow shall be my sd Grandson Joseph Russel's and his heirs and assigns forever, And my Will is that what remains of my moveable Estate after my Wife's thirds my Just Debts and funeral Charges be paid and Joseph's Team taken out and Utensils for husbandry taken out, shall be equally divided amongst my daughters.

" And my Will is that my Grandson Joseph Russel shall always let my wife have a good gentle horse to ride to meeting on every Sabbath day.

" And my Will is that if my Children contend and any of them or of my Grandchildren make Tryal or put in Law to break this my last Will and Testament that they or any of them shall thereby forfeit and loose their Right and Interest in my Estate.

"Item. I give unto my son in Law Walter Russel five shillings (that should have been mentioned before now) which shall be his full portion.

"And my Will is that the meadow that I have thought of buying in Case I do purchase it shall be my Grandson Joseph Russel's besides his part or half of my lands as abovesd. And my sd. Grandson shall have one acre of Land where my House stands moreover and besides his equal share as abovesaid, and my sd Grandson shall allow my Wife during her time of abode in my house the use of his fire to do her work withal.

"And I do hereby utterly disallow, revoke, and disannul all and every other or former Testaments, Wills, Legacies and bequeasts and Executors by me any way before named conflicting and ordaining my dear and loving Wife and my dutiful son Nathll Patten and my Dutiful Grandson Joseph Russel my Executors of this my Last Will and Testament.

"In Witness whereof I have hereto set my hand and seal the Day and year above written.

"Nathanael Patten and seal. Signed sealed and declared to be his last Will and Testament in presence of us Samuel Cooke, Francis Kidder, John Cooke & Jno. Smith."

A memorandum attached showed there was the value of sixty-four pounds owed him by different persons, and stating that was a perfect inventory, excepting three cows and fourteen sheep that were then in the woods, and some small things of little value.

Children, born in Cambridge:

8. i. Nathaniel,[3] b. Sept. 24, 1672.
9. ii. John, b. Sept. 24, 1672.
iii. Anna, b. Apr. 20, 1674; m. Nathaniel Eames, of Framingham. He was b. Dec. 30, 1668, and d. Jan. 1, 1746. She d. Mar. 12, 1743.
10. iv. William, b. July 12, 1676.
v. Mary, b. July 24, 1679; m. May 17, 1699, Walter Russell. She died before 1706. He was son of Joseph and Mary (Belcher) Russell.
vi. Samuel, b. Feb. 11, 1681. In his father's will provision is made for his support and for his burial expenses. No further record to be found of him.
vii. Hannah, b. Jan. 18, 1689; d. unm. Sept. 16, 1739. Hannah Patten, of Cambridge, who died at the house of Abraham Hilland, made an oral will, viz., that her estate should "go to sister Russell and the two girls." When asked who she meant by the two girls she said Samuel Gooding's wife (Mary) and Sarah Swan, "and that Mary and Sarah should have all the clothes as sister Russell lives well and does not need them."
viii. Elizabeth, m. Mar. 30, 1710, John Russell. In 1725 she was living at Killingly, Conn.

THIRD GENERATION

4. THOMAS [3] (Thomas,[2] William [1]) was born March 22, 1666, in Billerica; married Dec. 21, 1699, Hannah Foster, stepdaughter of Peter Bracket. She died Aug. 18, 1742, aged 75 years, 1 month. Sergeant Thomas Patten died Sept. 14, 1752.

Children, born in Billerica:

11. i. Thomas,[4] b. Oct. 22, 1701.

12. ii. Nathaniel, b. Feb. 1, 1702–3.
13. iii. John, b. Mar. 29, 1705.
14. iv. Joseph, b. Sept. 26, 1710.

5. NATHANIEL [3] (Thomas,[2] William[1]) was born Sept. 14, 1668, in Billerica; married Dec. 6, 1695, Hannah Ross, who was daughter of Thomas Ross; born Mar. 31, 1679. He died Apr. 2, 1718. His widow married May 19, 1726, Joseph Emerson. On May 18, 1733, an agreement was entered into by the heirs setting off to Hannah Emerson, wife of Joseph Emerson, her thirds in the estate. This agreement was signed by Joseph Emerson, Hannah Emerson, Nathaniel Patten, Jr., and John Patten. The daughter, Hannah Patten, had on December 10, 1728, sold her interest in her father's estate to her brother Nathaniel for £140.

Children, born in Billerica:

i. Hannah,[4] b. Apr. 3, 1705.
15. ii. Nathaniel, b. Sept. 10, 1707.
16. iii. John, b. Oct. 31, 1711.

6. WILLIAM [3] (Thomas,[2] William[1]) was born May 12, 1671, in Billerica; married Mary Rogers, who was probably the daughter of John Rogers. She died May 16, 1716, aged 48 years. He married second, Elizabeth Whiting, widow of Samuel Whiting, of Dunstable. He was selectman of Billerica in 1720, 1723–25, 1728–30, and was Representative to the General Court, 1729–30. He died October 5, 1730, at Cambridge, while attending the General Court. The cause of his death was smallpox.

Children, born in Billerica:

i. William,[4] b. Jan. 24, 1694. Died May 12, 1694.
17. ii. Thomas, b. Mar. 12, 1695.

iii. Mary, b. July 19, 1696; m. Sept. 4, 1732, Benjamin Wood, of Dracut.

iv,v. Twin sons b. and d. May 20, 1698.

vi. Rebecca, b. Apr. 18, 1699; m. Oct. 6, 1719, Capt. Jacob Danforth, of Billerica, who was the son of Ensign Jonathan and Rebecca (Parker) Danforth, and was b. Feb. 6, 1688. He died Jan. 2, 1754. She d. Jan. 27, 1773.

vii. Sarah, b. Dec. 6, 1701; m. Jacob Taylor, of Concord.

viii. Elizabeth, b. Jan. 25, 1705. Died June 11, 1706.

ix. William, b. Apr. 16, 1706. Died July 31, 1732.

x. Elizabeth, b. Feb. 18, 1709; m. Joseph Taylor, of Concord, in 1730.

xi. Mehitable, b. Aug. 18, 1710; m. Feb. 1, 1733, Ralph Hill. He was the son of Samuel and Deborah Hill, and was b. Sept. 16, 1707. She d. Feb. 24, 1780. He m. Nov. 11, 1784, Abigail (Snow) Sanders, widow of David Sanders. He d. Feb. 13, 1789.

7. KENDALL [3] (Thomas,[2] William[1]) was born April 20, 1689, in Billerica. According to Billerica records his first wife was named Abigail, for we find her death recorded as on July 20, 1718. These records also state that he married Abigail Kittredge about 1720. She was the daughter of John Kittredge, and was born Nov. 15, 1700. She died Dec. 4, 1737. He must have married a third time, as at his death his widow is spoken of as Susanna. He lived in Tewksbury and died Dec. 14, 1770. His real estate was appraised and divided by a commission who reported Jan. 8, 1771. They valued it at £365 12*s* 8*d*, and divided what was left after they had set off the thirds to the widow Susanna into two parts: one part they assigned to Daniel Shed and wife Abigail, heirs of Sarah Twiss, wife of John Twiss, and heirs of Hannah Rider, wife of Josiah Rider; the other part they assigned to Mehitable Dutton, daughter of Kendall, Ephraim and Mary Frost, and Samuel and Rebecca Ober. As no mention is made of his daughter Elizabeth or his son Kendall or any heirs of them, it is to be presumed that they had died previous to this time, leaving no heirs. The widow, Susanna, died shortly after this, for we find that an inventory of her estate was made July 21, 1772, and filed in the probate court.

He served in the French war as "Trooper." His name appears on a company roll in 1705.

Children, born in Billerica:

i. Kendall,[4] b. Aug. 13, 1713. Died Aug. 3, 1714.
ii. Abigail, b. May 7, 1716; m. Daniel Shed, who was son of Daniel and Rebecca (Dutton) Shed, and was b. Jan. 7, 1714.
iii. Elizabeth, b. and d. July 20, 1718.
iv. Sarah, b. Aug. 20, 1720; m. John Twiss. She died previous to 1771.
v. Samuel, b. Feb. 18, 1721. Died Jan. 21, 1753.
vi. Hannah, b. Mar. 9, 1724; m. Josiah Rider, who was son of Ephraim and Abigail Rider. She died previous to 1771.
vii. Mehitable, b. Sept. 13, 1725; m. —— Dutton.

Born in Tewksbury:

viii. Kendall, b. Feb. 5, 1729. He died previous to 1737.
ix. Elizabeth, b. May 20, 1730. Died previous to 1771.
x. Mary, b. Feb. 11, 1732; m. Ephraim Frost.
xi. Rebecca, b. Jan. 11, 1735; m. Samuel Ober.
xii. Kendall, b. July 21, 1737. Died previous to 1771.

8. NATHANIEL [3] (Nathaniel,[2] William [1]) was born in Cambridge, Sept. 24, 1672; m. Feb. 17, 1702, Deborah Wright, of Woburn, who was the daughter of John Wright. She died Mar. 9, 1716, aged 38 years, 10 days. He married, second, Sarah Frost, of Cambridge, May 17, 1720. She died at Menotomy, now Arlington, Aug. 11, 1747, aged 78 years. He died probably early in the year 1727, as his widow was appointed administrator of his estate May 8, 1727. His widow married Joseph Hamilton, of Boston, May 2, 1728. Mar. 25, 1730, the heirs filed a petition for the estate to be appraised, as Sarah Hamilton had quitted her right of dower.

His real estate at that time was appraised as follows:

The homestead containing one acre of land with one dwelling and shop	150
One acre and a half of meadow in Charlestown	67	10
One half of two acre lot in Charlestown called Symmes meadow	33
Seventeen acres of pasture in Cambridge	120
A ten acre wood lot in Lexington	45
	415	10

This property was all to be delivered to Joseph Russell, who was to pay each of the heirs the amount of money they would be entitled to as their share of the estate. This did not include all the property of Nathaniel Patten, as in addition to this he had his share in his father's estate. The above property was included in the inventory of his estate filed May 10, 1727, but we find that in the following July an additional inventory was filed which stated that it was his share of his father's estate. This consisted of:

One half of 12 acres at home	60
One half of 30 acres at Charlestown	307	10
One half of 10 acres at reedy meadow	45
One half of 15 acres of woodland	30
One half of 8 acres at rock meadow	20
One half of 2 acres at Lexington	5
His half of the barn	10
	477	10

Children, born in Cambridge:

18. i. Nathaniel,[4] b. Dec. 10, 1702.
    ii. Abigail, b. May 6, 1705; m. Dec. 2, 1731, Sebas Jackson, who was the son of Edward and Mary Jackson, Apr. 20, 1706. He died in Feb., 1771.
    iii. Jonathan, b. Oct., 1706. He was killed Dec. 22, 1730, by the falling of a clay bank where he was digging. The probate court records give his residence as Charlestown and his occupation as housewright.
    iv. Deborah, b. July 25, 1708. Died Oct. 22, 1708.
    v. Deborah, b. Sept. 6, 1709; m. June 20, 1732, Simon Howard.
    vi. Phebe, b. Dec. 2, 1711; m. Oct. 17, 1733, Michael Jackson, of Newton, who was the son of Edward and Mary Jackson, b. Feb. 28, 1709-10. He died Oct. 8, 1757. She died Apr. 21, 1776.
    vii. Priscilla, b. June 6, 1713; d. Apr. 1, 1714.
    viii. Sarah, b. in 1714. Baptized Apr. 10, 1715. She married Samuel Swan, son of Ebenezer and Bathsheba Swan. He was b. Apr. 5, 1711.
    ix. Daniel, b. Feb. 22, 1716. Died Sept. 16, 1739.
    x. Priscilla, b. in 1717.

9. JOHN [3] (Nathaniel,[2] William [1]) was born in Cambridge, Sept. 24, 1672; married Mar. 13, 1700, Margaret Luxford, who was the daughter of Reuben Luxford and was born July 27, 1673. They are said to have resided on the south side of Brattle Street, between Ash and Sparks Streets. His wife was appointed administrator of his estate May 8, 1717. She died Feb. 19, 1718.

Children, born in Cambridge:

i. Margaret,[4] b. Mar. 5, 1700; m. Nov. 8, 1733, Charles Hunnewell, of Charlestown, for his second wife. He was son of Charles and Eliza (Davis) Hunnewell.

19. ii. Luxford, b. Mar. 31, 1704.

20. iii. John, b. Nov. 8, 1706.

iv. Rebecca. In the will of Nathaniel Patten, given on a previous page, he speaks of his grandchildren John, Rebecca, and Sarah Squire, children of Rebecca Squire, deceased.

10. WILLIAM [3] (Nathaniel,[2] William [1]) was born in Cambridge, July 12, 1676; married Abigail Willis, of Medford, Jan. 3, 1701. She was the daughter of Stephen Willis and granddaughter of George Willis. George Willis was born in England in 1601, and was in Cambridge in 1637, where he was admitted freeman May 2, 1638. He lived to a good old age, for in 1687 we find him with others addressing a petition to King James II. (Hutchinson History of Massachusetts, Vol. I.). At that time Governor Andros was harassing the colonists by disputing their titles to their lands, on the ground that the Colonial Charter having been cancelled by the Court of Chancery, all grants heretofore made under it were invalid and of no effect. The address runs as follows: "The petition and address of John Gibson, aged about 87 and of George Willow, aged 86 years, as also on behalf of their neighbours, the inhabitants of Cambridge in New England, in most humble wise sheweth; That your majestys good subjects, with much hard labour and great disbursements have subdued a wilderness, built our houses and planted orchards, being encouraged by our indubitable right to the soil by the royal charter granted unto the first planters, together with our first purchases of the natives, as also by sundry letters and declarations sent to the late governor and company from his late Majesty, your royal brother, assuring us of the full enjoyment of our properties and possessions, as is more especially contained in the declaration sent when the quo warranto was issued out against our charter. But we are necessitated to make this our moan and complaint to your excellent Majesty, for that our title is now questioned to our lands, by us quietly possessed for near 60 years, and without which we cannot subsist. Our humble address to our governor Sir Edmund Andros shewing our just title, long and peaceable possession, together with our claim of the benefit of your Majesty's letters and declarations assuring all your good subjects that they shall not be molested in their properties and possessions, not availing.

"Royal Sir, We are a poor people and have no way to procure money to defend our cause in the law; nor know we of friends at court, and therefore unto your royal Majesty as the publick father of all your subjects, do we make this our humble address for relief, beseeching your Majesty graciously to pass your royal act for the confirmation of your Majesty's subjects here in our possessions, to us derived from our late Governor and Company of this your Majesty's colony.

"We now humbly cast ourselves and the distressed condition of our wives and children at your Majesty's feet and conclude with that saying of Queen Esther, 'if we perish we perish.'"

The revolution in England the following year, which removed the Stuart king from the throne, probably relieved the signers of the above petition from further apprehension of a disturbance of their titles by the Crown.

Stephen Willis, the son of George, was born Oct. 14, 1644, and in early life removed to Braintree, where he married Hannah, daughter of Francis and Mary Eliot. He later removed to Medford, where his daughter Abigail was born Oct. 3, 1677.

At a meeting of inhabitants of Cambridge, held Mar. 11, 1700, for choice of town officers and other business, the following vote was passed:

"William Pattin requesting of the Proprietors yt he might have halfe an Acre of land where his house standeth wch he is willing to purchase it was voted by ye Proprietors that he shall have that liberty and give what the sd Committee above mentioned shall determine."

At this meeting he was appointed fence-viewer; and at the meeting held a year later, he was appointed surveyor of highways.

William Patten lived in Cambridge until 1712, when he removed to Medford. His wife died Feb. 19, 1725. He died Sept. 7, 1744.

Children, born in Cambridge:

21. i. William,[4] b. Aug. 21, 1701.
ii. Abigail, b. June 11, 1703; m. Mar. 7, 1739, John Legg.
iii. Rebecca, b. Jan. 14, 1706; m. Dec. 5, 1738, Thomas Seccomb, of Medford. He was the son of Peter Sec-comb and Hannah Willis Seccomb, and was born Aug. 16, 1711. He was the town clerk of Medford, and a book bound in brown paper and bearing his initials on the cover, containing a record of deaths in Medford kept by various persons, is still in existence.

22. iv. Stephen, b. June 19, 1707.
v. Eliot, b. May 15, 1709.
vi. Mary, b. May 20, 1711; died Mar. 15, 1773.

Born in Medford:

23. vii. John, b. Jan. 1, 1713.
24. viii. Aaron, b. Apr. 16, 1717.
25. ix. Thomas, b. Feb. 20, 1719.

FOURTH GENERATION

11. THOMAS [4] (Thomas,[3] Thomas,[2] William [1]) was born Oct. 22, 1701, in Billerica; m. Hannah Kittredge, who was the daughter of Daniel Kittredge. Thomas Patten died Sept. 16, 1733.

Child:

Hannah,[5] b. Apr. 17, 1732, in Billerica.

12. NATHANIEL [4] (Thomas,[3] Thomas,[2] William [1]) was born Feb. 1, 1702–3, in Billerica. Where he lived or whom he married is an uncertainty. In a cemetery at Willington, Conn., are said to be the following inscriptions:

"Dea. Nathaniel Patten died Apr. 19, 1779, in his 77th year. Mrs. Ruth Patten, wife of Dea. Nathaniel Patten, formerly wife of Mr. William Johnson. Died Oct. 3, 1786, ae. 80."

Mr. William Johnson, by the same authority, died June 2, 1774. A search of the Willington town and church records fails to throw any light on this matter.

Nathaniel Patten seems to have been a favorite name. There were in Connecticut Pattens bearing this name, but I have not been able to get sufficient information on them to connect them with our line. In only one instance have I been able to get in communication with any of their descendants. If these are in connection with this line it would be, I think, through this one, who died in Willington. There was a Nathaniel Patten in Killingly, who married Anna Hutchins, Oct. 18, 1730. He had ten children whose births are recorded in Killingly.

Children:

i. Deborah, b. Sept. 7, 1732.
ii. Jonathan, b. Nov. 18, 1733.
iii. Anna, b. Nov. 1, 1735.
iv. Phebe, b. Aug. 31, 1737.
v. Daniel, b. Aug. 10, 1739.
vi. Mary, b. Mar. 14, 1742.
vii. Nathaniel, b. Mar. 19, 1744.
viii. Silas, b. Dec. 24, 1747.
ix. Susie, b. June 19, 1751.
x. Nathaniel, b. Feb. 27, 1754.

Of this family we know nothing further, except that the name of Nathaniel Patten appears on a subscription to hire a minister in South Killingly in April, 1735.

At a later date there was a Nathaniel Patten in Norwich, and some authorities on Norwich history say he was of Cambridge. In a history of Norwich we find the following account of him. In May, 1774, " Nathaniel Patten, Book binder and Stationer from Boston," opened a shop " near the east end of the plain," not far from Robertson's printing office. He proposed "to bind, gild and letter books in as splendid a manner as can be done in London." At the same time he offered for sale the largest assortment of books that had probably ever been displayed in this part of Connecticut. His stock included works of Doddridge, Watts, Owen, Harvey, Rowe, Thomson, Smollett; Blair's "Grave," "Pilgrim's Progress," "Vicar of Wakefield," "Arabian Nights," Milton's "Looking Glass for Laity and Clergy," "New England's Memorial," "King Philip's Bloody War," Lord Somers's "Judgment of Kingdoms and Nations," Hancock's "Oration, on the Bloody 5th of March, 1770," Rev. Mr. Sampson Ocean's much approved "Collection of Hymns and Spiritual Songs," and many other standard and popular works, besides school-books and works for children. Of stationery he had a great variety, and to this he added articles in the fancy line, which resembled the items of more modern days.

> "A famous tincture for taking out stains > Surprising excellent tooth-drops
> Venetian tooth-powder
> Imperial lip-salve
> A most curious eye-water
> A most excellent worm powder," etc.

It would probably have been difficult at that day to find in any other place on the continent, out of the range of the great cities, a literary counter presenting greater attractions to the old and young of both sexes, than was furnished by the book shop of Mr. Patten on Norwich Green.

Mr. Patten is reported to have left Boston on account of the troubles with the mother country in which that town was so deeply involved. He is said to have left Norwich soon after this, but where he went is not stated.

In 1796 a Nathaniel Patten, of Norwich, married Faith Foster. He was of the firm of Sterry and Patten.

About this time there was a Nathaniel Patten in Hartford, who was also a bookbinder by trade. In 1781 he sold in Newton to David Bemis land and buildings, being one-third of a paper-mill. In 1786 his name appears as one of the subscribers for building a new church in Hartford. He owned, in the First Church, pew No. 8, a large square pew on the side aisle.

He was a man of considerable means and was a frequent advertiser in the Hartford papers of that time. I have been unable to learn anything of his ancestry. There is a tradition among his descendants that he came from Scotland with his father when ten years of age, and settled in Boston, following the printer's trade. He married July 18, 1784, Lucinda Hitchcock, daughter of Capt. Aaron and Experience (King) Hitchcock. She died Nov. 10, 1789. He married, second, Mar. 7, 1792, at Longmeadow, Sarah Burt, who was the daughter of Col. Nathaniel and Experience (Chapin) Burt. He died Aug. 7, 1834, at the age of 82 years. His wife died Nov. 13, 1846, aged 79 years. At the St. Louis Exposition his door-plate was used on the Connecticut State Building.

Children:

i. Experience, m. Aug. 3, 1815, Fortune Clark White.
ii. Lucinda, b. in 1785; d. Sept. 19, 1807, ae. 22 yrs.
iii. Fanny, d. y.
iv. Sally, d. y.
v. Mary Ann, b. in 1803; m. May 22, 1822, Alfred S. Munson. She d. April, 1887.

13. JOHN [4] (Thomas,[3] Thomas,[2] William [1]) was born Mar. 29, 1705, in Billerica; married Elizabeth Frost, who was the daughter of Edmund and Hannah (Kittredge) Frost and was born Feb. 23, 1717. She died Apr. 20, 1756. They lived in Tewksbury, but moved from there in 1753, to Shrewsbury, where they were admitted to the church in 1754.

Children, born in Tewksbury, except one:

i. Johanan,[5] b. and d. May 9, 1742.
ii. Elizabeth, b. July 26, 1743. Mar. 13, 1774, she was received into the South Church, Andover, by profession of faith. She d. Aug. 20, 1818.
26. iv. John, b. Mar. 21, 1745.
v. Ruth, b. Dec. 1, 1746; d. July 4, 1749.
vi. Ruth, b. Oct. 5, 1749.
27. vii. Elijah, b. Nov. 21, 1750.
viii. Hannah, b. at Shrewsbury, Sept. 2, 1753.

14. JOSEPH [4] (Thomas,[3] Thomas,[2] William [1]) was born Sept. 26, 1710, in Billerica; married Jan. 8, 1735, Susanna Hill, who was the daughter of Samuel Hill.

He lived in Billerica until 1743, when his name disappears from the tax-list. In 1762 he deeds, together with his wife Susanna, all the rights they have in the estate of Samuel Hill, of Billerica. This deed is witnessed by Alice and Mehitable Patten, and in it he gives his residence as Ship Island, Lincoln County. In the Lincoln County Registry of Maine, we find that this island is on the east side of the Sheepscot River, and that he purchased it of one Samuel Barter, in 1746. In 1753 he bought another small island or neck of land called Moors Island. In both these deeds he gives his residence as Newbury. In 1762 he deeds to Alice Patten, tailor, his real estate consisting of Ship Island and two adjoining necks of land called Moors Island and Indiantown Island, together with two hundred acres of land, including two ponds, on the main land in the town of Boothbay.

When at one time a petition was presented for the formation of a new county to be called Lincoln County, the name of Joseph Patten appears among the petitioners.

In the first records of Lincoln County, pertaining to the opening of the first court in Pownalboro, in the list of justices present appears the name of Joseph Patten. In the Lincoln County Record in 1762 we find a list of marriages solemnized by Joseph Patten, J. P.

Children, born in Billerica:

i. Lucy,[5] b. Dec. 1, 1735. Among the marriage intentions published in Newburyport we find that of Somerby Moody and Lucy Patten, of Sheepscot, July 12, 1755.
ii. Alice, b. July 3, 1738.
iii. Joseph, b. July 29, 1742.

15. NATHANIEL [4] (Nathaniel,[3] Thomas,[2] William [1]) was born in Billerica, Sept. 10, 1707; married Mary Kidder, who was daughter of Enoch and Mary (Haywood) Kidder. They are thought to be the ones who were living in Oxford in 1729. Dec. 7, 1729, Nathaniel Patten, cooper, and Mary, his wife, convey land and mill in Oxford to Joseph Reed, of Leicester. The following year they convey land to Benoni Twitchell, also in Oxford. They are afterward reported to have gone to Windham, Conn., where their children are said to have been born, but on the Windham records the birth of Mary only appears. He afterward went to Stafford, Conn., where he remained until his death. His grave and that of his wife may be seen there at the present time. He died Nov. 25, 1756. His widow married Nathaniel Woodward. She died Nov. 30, 1789, aged 88 years.

At a court of probate held at Hartford, Sept. 5, 1757, the following entry appears: "It was certified to this Court by Zebulon West, Esq. Justice of Peace that Sarah Patten, a minor 13 years of age, Daughter of Nathaniel Patten, late of Tolland, deceased, before him made choice of Nathaniel Woodward of Coventry in the County of Windham to be her guardian which choice the Court allows."

At the same court "Nathaniel Woodward of Coventry, administrator in right of his wife Mary, the Relict of Nath'l Patten, late of Stafford deceased, having settled their account of administration on said Estate then move to the Court for distribution." The decree of distribution gives "to the Rellict of said Dec'd now the wife of said Nath'l Woodward one third of the movable Estate, exclusive of Debts and charges and one third of the Real Estate for her Improvement during life and to Nath'l Patten, eldest son a Double share and to John Patten, William Patten, and to Mary Patten, Hannah Patten, and Sarah Patten, children of the deceased each of them a single share."

Children:

i. Mary,[5] b. in Oxford, Apr. 10, 1728; d. June 21, 1734.

ii. Hannah, b. Nov. 11, 1729; m. Jan. 24, 1762, Nathan Pease. He was born at Enfield, Conn., Jan. 18, 1740.

28. iii. Nathaniel, b. Mar. 19, 1733.

16. JOHN[4] (Nathaniel,[3] Thomas,[2] William[1]) was born Oct. 31, 1711, in Billerica; married Feb. 4, 1736, Jane Hill, who was the daughter of Lieut. Joseph and Susanna (Baldwin) Hill, who was born Nov. 7, 1712. She died June 21, 1786, in the 74th year of her age. He died June 14, 1785. They lived in Billerica.

Children, born in Billerica:

31. i. John,[5] b. Jan. 22, 1737.

ii. Jane, b. Jan. 4, 1739; d. July 17, 1764.

32. iv. Asa, b. Feb. 24, 1747.

17. THOMAS[4] (William,[3] Thomas,[2] William[1]) was born Mar. 12, 1695, in Billerica; married Miriam Stearns about 1730. She was the daughter of Isaac and Mary Miriam Stearns, who was born Aug. 5, 1705. She died Sept. 16, 1747. He was a cooper by trade and died Oct. 10, 1747. An appraisal of his estate was made Oct. 28, 1747, and his personal estate was valued at £824 9*s* 0*d*. For live stock he had one mare, five cows, one heifer, two calves, a yearling steer, twenty-one sheep, four swine, nine small pigs, three geese, and a swarm of bees. In 1754 a settlement of his estate was made by commissioners, who reported Feb. 4, 1754. They valued the real estate at £3,175. It consisted of 222 acres of land, and a pew in the meeting-house. This real estate, by a decree of the court, was assigned to the sons William and Thomas, and they were to pay their brethren Isaac, Jonathan, David, Miriam, Sarah, and Mary their share of the estate in money.

Children, born in Billerica:

i. Mary,[5] b. Dec. 21, 1730. Died previous to 1737.
ii. Miriam, b. Dec. 21, 1730.
33. iii. William, b. Sept. 24, 1732.
34. iv. Thomas, b. Apr. 2, 1734.
v. Sarah, b. Aug. 24, 1735; m. June 5, 1755, Dr. Timothy Danforth, who was the son of Capt. Jacob and Rebecca (Patten) Danforth, and was b. Nov. 11, 1729. He died June 21, 1792.
vi. Mary, b. Sept. 10, 1737.
35. vii. Isaac, b. June 3, 1739.
viii. Jonathan, b. Feb. 14, 1743.
36. ix. David, b. Aug. 2, 1745.

18. NATHANIEL [4] (Nathaniel,[3] Nathaniel,[2] William [1]) was born in Cambridge, Dec. 10, 1702. He married Mary ——.

He went to Killingly, Conn., and was a housewright there in 1727. In a deed of land purchased there, he is spoken of as of Cambridge. He did not remain there, for on Feb. 1, 1731, administration was granted on the estate of Jonathan Patten, late of Charlestown, to his brother Nathaniel Patten, late of Killingly, County of Windham, Conn., but now resident in Cambridge. He is said to be the one who owned a house at the corner of Mount Auburn Street and Brattle Square. In the deed given when he sold the property in 1755 his occupation is given as cooper. In a deed given in 1756 by Nathaniel and his wife Mary his residence is given as Watertown. Aug. 25, 1757, John Willson, of Newton, sells to Nathaniel Patten, Jr., late of Cambridge, a small piece of land in Roxbury near the new meeting-house. Aug. 20, 1759, Samuel Gridley, of Roxbury, sells to Nathaniel Patten, of Roxbury, cooper, a small piece of land on the meeting-house hill adjoining land of Nathaniel Patten. This deed was not recorded until Sept. 30, 1790. The record of his family is very incomplete. In the history of Cambridge two children are mentioned, namely, Jonathan and Ebenezer. William Patten, who was the minister in Hartford, was the son of Nathaniel Patten, who lived in Roxbury, although the town histories assign him to Nathaniel Patten whose wife was Mary Kidder, but he did not live in Roxbury. Nathaniel, of Roxbury, also had a son Nathaniel, but nothing definite is to be found of him. He also had a daughter Mary, who married Thomas Hunt, of Stockbridge, Oct. 27, 1789.

At a meeting held in Roxbury, Nov. 23, 1772, a letter was received from the town of Boston requesting a free communication of sentiments "on our common danger." This letter was considered, and a committee, of which Nathaniel Patten was one, was chosen to report thereon. The report, made Dec. 14th, "made great uneasiness and very difficult to understand the true state of the vote and a number of the inhabitants withdrew from the meeting after which said report and letter of correspondence was read over again and accepted." The report was probably drawn up by the chairman, Isaac Winslow, Esq., whose conservative views led him to cast his vote with the loyalists. Three of the committee, one of whom was Nathaniel Patten, refused to sign the report. A Committee of Correspondence was then chosen, of which Nathaniel Patten was a member.

In a book entitled "Interesting Family Letters," published by Rev. William Patten of Newport, in 1834, after the death of his mother, we find several letters in which members of the family are referred to.

In a letter from Nathaniel Patten, written in 1767, he says: "My son Nathaniel came in from sea last Sabbath." In a letter written Dec. 12, 1775, he says: "I am now going to remove the third time to make room for our friends the soldiers." June 28, 1776, he writes: "We have returned to our little habitation and have some of our children with us. Daughter P— is come from B— and is with us. My son Nathaniel is confined at Nova Scotia. The government will not suffer him to come away." On July 16, 1776, he again writes and says: "The very seat of civil war — cannon balls often flying among us and into our houses. About the 19th of April we heard the British troops were coming out of Boston into the country on some hostile design. We thought it likely that they would destroy Roxbury, as they went along. We therefore in a hurry tumbled out what we could of our most valuable effects under fences, or where we thought they would be a little out of sight, as we had not time to remove them far. But it appeared their orders were to go to Concord, and destroy the magazine, and stores there. They went peaceably, until they got to Lexington, where they killed eight men; and then continued to Concord, where they did some mischief, and killed one or two men. Then our people thought it high time to defend themselves. There were a few collected, some say 50 or 60 at first, who attacked the King's troops with such resolution as made them retreat, and as they retreated, our people kept gathering, until they amounted to about three hundred, as I have heard some say, who were in the battle, that attacked the king's troops, at any one time, and yet they fled before our people, for the Lord was with them, and they could not stand before them. How wonderful was it to see 500 men drive 2,000 veteran troops, for twenty miles, who had boasted so much what they could do with the Yankees. After this battle, in which they lost five hundred men, according to the best accounts we could get I thought they would not dare to come out again. I got our things into the house again, and staid until all the people had removed from the lower end of the town, a great many for near half a mile above us, still I thought there was no danger of their coming out; perhaps they might take it into their heads to fire their cannon, and spoil our houses, but thought after the first shot or two we should have time to escape; but one night about nine o'clock, there was news that the troops were coming out of town; my son came in and told his mother, he thought she had better get out of the way if she could; it was very dark and muddy and no horse to be got, they were all gone; so she was obliged to travel nearly a mile in the mud, which she had not done for seven years. After that she said she could not go home again — she could not run away if there should be occasion. Afterwards she was taken sick with a fever, and was nigh death, according to human appearance; but God had something more for her to do or suffer. Afterward Jonathan and I staid until they fired their cannon balls into a number of houses, and one into our store and two more, one on each side. Since that every few days they fire into Roxbury, and have shattered some of the houses very much. After we were driven away, we went just up by the middle meeting house, and hired a store, and part of a house, so that we have as good accommodations as we can expect in these times. My son Jonathan is in very good business he is a setler for the army."

Nathaniel Patten died July 5, 1790, and is buried in the Eustis Street burying-ground. His estate was settled by Thomas Hunt as administrator. In March, 1790, we find that Nathaniel Patten obtained an execution against one Benjamin Hamilton, and to satisfy the execution he proceeded to take possession of a piece of land, and for that purpose appointed Jonathan Patten, of Roxbury, as his attorney to act for him in the matter. In 1791 we find that Jonathan Patten sells two parcels of land in Roxbury; one to Thomas Hunt and the other to Josiah and Nathaniel Ruggles. As no wife is mentioned in these deeds it is to be presumed that he was not married, or if he had been, the wife was not then living.

Children:

Jonathan, b. Nov. 26, 1731; baptized, according to church records, Aug. 12, 1744.

37. William, b. Mar. 11, 1738.

Nathaniel and Mary; we find no record of birth.

There was a son Ebenezer, who was baptized July 22, 1750, at the house of Nathaniel Patten, according to the church records. As no further mention is anywhere found of him, he probably died young.

19. LUXFORD [4] (John,[3] Nathaniel [2] William [1]) was born in Cambridge, Mar. 31, 1704; married May 11, 1727, Rebecca Robbins, who was the daughter of Nathaniel Robbins.

He inherited his father's house and died before May 17, 1730. His wife was appointed administratrix June 26, 1730. His real estate was valued at £145. It consisted of a house, barn, and land at £70, and two acres of land in Watertown and two three-acre lots at Cambridge Rocks.

Children, born in Cambridge:

i. Mary,[5] b. May 10, 1728; d. Jan. 11, 1736.
ii. Rebecca, b. May 12, 1730; d. Mar. 11, 1736.

20. JOHN [4] (John,[3] Nathaniel,[2] William [1]) was born in Cambridge, Nov. 8, 1706; married Dec. 10, 1730, Sarah Pomeroy, of Stoughton, who was the daughter of Joshua and Repent (Weeks) Pomeroy, and was born Feb. 10, 1712. She died Aug. 14, 1731. He married, second, Mary Robbins, of Walpole, Apr. 12, 1732. She was daughter of William Robbins, of Dedham, and was born Nov. 6, 1709. In 1728 they were living in Stoughton. At the death of her husband Mary Patten was appointed administratrix, and on Mar. 7, 1769, filed an inventory of the estate. His property amounted to £246 6*s* 1*d*. It consisted, besides personal property, in the shape of provisions, furniture, etc., of one dwelling-house and sixty-two acres of land, by estimation valued at £120, and cattle as follows: one horse, and yoke of oxen, one small heifer and one yoke small bulls, four cows, nine sheep, four lambs, two swine, and fowls and geese, the whole of them being valued at £29 18*s* 8*d*. When the estate was settled Mary Patten reports that she has on hand, after all debts are paid, the sum of £104 16*s* 5*d*. In the order for distribution of the estate she is allowed £34 15*s* 9*d*, and John, as the eldest son, is allowed a double portion, viz., £17 9*s* 5*d*, and the other six children are allowed £8 14*s* 8*d* each.

Children:

38. i. John,[5] b. Aug. 1, 1731.
ii. Mary, b. Jan. 4, 1732; m. Jan. 8, 1761, Seth Boyden.
iii. Hannah, b. Nov. 15, 1737.

These three are all that are recorded in Stoughton.

iv. Sarah, m. Mar. 28, 1765, Jacob Boyden.

v. Abigail, b. in 1746; m. Timothy Briggs, of Norton. They were published June 1, 1770. He was son of Ensign Timothy and Mary (Briggs) Briggs, and was b. Apr. 27, 1745. He d. Nov. 10, 1819. She d. Nov. 4, 1818. They lived at Norton, but worshipped with the Baptist church at Taunton.

Children:

1. Timothy Briggs, b. Aug. 3, 1771; d. of yellow fever at Boston Quarantine, Sept. 1, 1797. He graduated at Brown University in 1794.
2. Hannah Briggs, b. June 23, 1773; m. Oct. 3, 1797, Noah Deane, of Fairhaven. She d. Apr. 5, 1866. She is said to have been a woman of elegant appearance and cultivated tastes, and retained her mental powers to the close of a very long life.
3. Polly Briggs, b. June 16, 1775; m. Nov. 1, 1795, Capt. Daniel Goodwin. She d. May 31, 1861. She is said to have been a woman of strong character and self-reliance and interested in all out-of-door pursuits. She, like her sister, was fond of reading and given to writing letters old-fashioned and entertaining. Her husband was away at sea much of the time, and all the care of a large family devolved upon her. Her children did credit to her training. Four sons and three grandsons became clergymen in the Episcopal Church.

21. WILLIAM [4] (William,[3] Nathaniel,[2] William [1]) was born in Cambridge, Aug. 21, 1701; married Nov. 17, 1726, Ann Seccomb, of Medford.

Children, born in Medford:

i. George,[5] b. Sept. 4, 1729. He d. Dec. 4, 1729.
ii. Lucy, b. Dec. 24, 1730; m. Nov. 27, 1751, Samuel Hall, who was the son of John and Elizabeth Hall, and was b. Apr. 2, 1728.
iii. Anne, b. Mar. 4, 1733; m. Apr. 4, 1757, Nathaniel Davis, of Charlestown. He was son of Nathaniel and Ann (Goodwin) Davis.
iv. George, b. Nov. 9, 1735. He d. Feb. 24, 1740.
40. v. Jonathan, b. July 7, 1738.
vi. Rebecca, b. Apr. 11, 1742. She d. May 14, 1742.
vii. Abigail, b. June 2, 1744; m. Dec. 29, 1763, Josiah Burroughs. He was son of Josiah and Hannah (Lewis) Burroughs, and was b. Jan. 19, 1737.

22. STEPHEN [4] (William,[3] Nathaniel,[2] William [1]), born in Cambridge, June 19, 1707. He married Dec. 10, 1735, at Amesbury, where he went to live, Mary Sargent. She was the daughter of John and Hannah Quimby Sargent, and was born Sept. 16, 1714. She was the great-granddaughter of William Sargent, who came to New England about 1631. He was one of the twelve who, with John Winthrop, the younger, commenced the settlement of Agawam, now Ipswich. His name appears in the Massachusetts Colony records as Wm. Srjeant, in an order protecting the grantees at Agawam. He was one of the first to settle at Newbury, in 1635.

During the French and Indian War, in 1757, the Earl of Loudon was obliged to resort to impressment to raise an army to attack Canada, and Stephen was impressed, but did not go, sending a substitute instead.

He died at Newburyport, Mar. 25, 1761. His wife died Jan. 21, 1786.

Children, born in Amesbury:

i. Abigail,[5] b. Sept. 1, 1736; m. Dec. 24, 1761, Ephraim Currier.
41. ii. Willis, b. Oct. 21, 1738.
42. iii. John, b. May 26, 1740.
43. iv. Stephen, b. in 1743.
44. v. Thomas, b. Jan. 1, 1745.

23. JOHN [4] (William,[3] Nathaniel,[2] William [1]) was born in Medford, Jan. 1, 1713; married Nov. 4, 1736, Priscilla Loring, who was the daughter of Daniel Loring, of Boston, and was born in Boston, Jan. 15, 1713. In 1743 John Patten and his wife Priscilla sign an agreement on the division of the estate of Daniel Loring. The occupation of John is given as that of hatter. Daniel Loring's dwelling, owned by Governor Leverett in 1679, his orchard, malt-house, mill-house, and wharf were situated on north side of Beach Street, opposite Coolidge's new church. The wharf was afterward called Jackson's Wharf. His son Nathaniel Loring was a partner in the brewery, and at his father's death he was bequeathed the principal part of the estate. In 1784 he died and gave the same to William Patten, his executor. To his sister Priscilla he gave two dwelling-houses. In 1787 a fire in the malt-houses destroyed one hundred buildings, including the Hollis Street Church.

A few years ago there appeared in the Boston Globe an account of this fire, from which I make the following extract.

"Boston's great fire of 1787, great for that day with its population of something like fifteen thousand, broke out in the evening of April 19th in William Patten's malt-house in Beach Street, and spread with great rapidity in a southerly direction, taking in both sides of Washington Street from Eliot to Common Street on the east.

"The town had almost recovered from the effects of the disastrous fire of 1767, and the inhabitants had implicit faith in the efficiency of the newly organized fire department. They never dreamed that another such scene as they had witnessed at the time could be repeated in the town of Boston.

"The following extract from a letter written by Doctor Belknap to his friend, Mr. Hazard, is the most interesting account of the fire extant.

"'Now, my dear sir, I will give you some account of the fire of Friday evening. I could, as is usual in such cases, tell you of what I did, where I went and how I worked and waded through the dock at low water, and all that, but I believe a general account, with a small plan or sketch will be as much as you will want to have.

"'I was on the spot the next day, and with my pencil marked its progress, a copy of which I will enclose. The wind was a dry northeaster and had prevailed two days, the houses, with only one or two exceptions, were wooden and shingled.

"'It began in a malt house and had there been no wind the malt and dwelling house adjoining would have silently consumed without further mischief, and about one hundred legs of bacon that were taken to smoke would have been all the general damage.

"'But the wind carried the flakes of fire over the dock into some barns and dock houses adjoining to the main street and so rapid and irresistible was its progress that between 6 and 7 o'clock in the evening it destroyed between 70 and 80 dwelling houses with Mr. Ebenezer Wright's rectory (Hollis Street Church) as far as there was anything to be burned and had the town extended 10 or 20 miles in that direction, and wooden houses in the way, dry as they were the fire would have been equally as extensive. No lives were lost though much substance. . . .'

" April 25th, by an account taken by the selectmen, the loss sustained by the fire was 56 dwellings, 13 stores, a meeting-house, 8 barns, and 86 families burned out. Loss of property in round numbers, twenty thousand dollars.

" Much praise was given to the inhabitants of Charlestown, Roxbury, Dorchester, Milton, Cambridge, and Medford ' for their very spirited and cheerful assistance with their engines on this occasion.'

" The light given by the fire was so great that at Watertown a person's countenance could be plainly distinguished at a considerable distance. . . .

" One result of the fire was to entail a great amount of hardship and suffering, and on the following Sunday committees of the several churches in the town set on foot subscriptions, and the large sums contributed told of Boston's benevolence and liberality. Among others who contributed was General Lafayette, who no sooner heard the news than he wrote a letter of sympathy for Boston, and directed Samuel Beck to pay two hundred guineas on his account to the sufferers. A petition was sent to the General Court for relief, and several thousand dollars were appropriated by that body."

I find no complete record of this family, but find that on March 19, 1765, Priscilla Patten, widow, Sarah and Anna Patten, spinsters, Jonathan Patten, tailor, Daniel Patten, baker, William Patten, malster, all of Boston, deeded to Jonathan Patten, of Medford, shopkeeper, by quitclaim deed, " all the Right Property and demand whatsoever that we now have or ever may have by any way or means whatsoever to the real Estate of our Hond. Uncle John Willis, late of Medford in the County of Middlesex aforesaid decd. yeoman whether being in Medford aforesaid or any other Place whatever together with all the Estate Right Title Interest Use Property Claim and Demand whatsoever of them the said Priscilla, Sarah, Anna, Jonathan, Daniel and William Patten which they now have or at any time heretofore had of in and to the aforementioned Premises with the appurtenances or to any part thereof or which at any time heretofore has been held used occupied or enjoyed as part or parcel of the same."

It is supposed that the above persons were children of John Patten, who died in 1759 or 1760.

Jonathan Patten, of Medford, had previously bought the interest of other heirs of John Willis, as on Apr. 23, 1764, Willis, John, and Stephen Patten, coopers, of Amesbury, gave a similar deed to the one quoted above. On Feb. 7, 1764, Thomas Patten, a brickburner of Medford, and Mary, his wife, also gave Jonathan Patten a similar deed.

In December, 1758, John Patten, with others, deeds to Benjamin Willis their interest in dower set off from estate of Thomas Willis to Susanna Willis, but, in August, 1761, Priscilla is spoken of as a widow.

Priscilla Patten died Aug. 1, 1798, aged 85 years. In her will, dated Sept. 13, 1787, and proved Sept. 11, 1798, she mentions her son William and grandson Nathaniel, and names her daughter Sarah as executrix.

Children:

i. Sarah,[5] b. in 1738; d. unm. Apr., 1809, aged 71 years.
ii. Mary, b. in 1739; d. Dec. 29, 1752, aged 13 years.
45. iii. William, b. in 1750.

Sarah, in her will dated Feb. 17, 1808, says:

"I give and bequeath to my kinsman Nathaniel Patten, late of Roxbury, Ropemaker but now residing in Boston, twenty dollars and hope that he will consider the manner in which I remember his children in the same light of affection as if I had bestowed my worldly substance on him. This sum I order for him within one year after my decease and as much sooner as my executor may find convenient. I give and bequeath to my little namesake Sarah Patten, daughter of my kinsman above named One hundred dollars to be paid her when she becomes of age. I give devise and bequeath unto my trusty friend Robert Lamb of Boston Merchant all my Real Estate situate in Boston and bounded as follows; viz; Southerly on Beach Street, measuring sixty six feet, Westerly on land of John Jarvis, measuring one hundred and Eighteen feet, Northerly on Land of John Hoskins, measuring twenty seven feet, Easterly on Land of General Henry Jackson, measuring seventy three feet, Northerly on Land of said Jackson, measuring twenty one feet, and Easterly again on said Jacksons Land, measuring forty five feet, together with all the buildings thereon and all rights and privileges thereto belonging. To have and to hold to him the said Robert Lamb for and during the Life of my nephew Nathaniel Patten aforesaid and after his decease to descend to the four after named Children of the said Nathaniel as tenants in common in equal and undivided shares, of one fourth part to each viz; To Nathaniel Patten Junior, Nancy Patten, Mary Burdick Patten and Sarah Patten and to their heirs and assigns known as a fee simple estate. All the Residue of my Property after paying my debts and Legacies I give devise and bequeath to the aforenamed Children to be divided between them share and share alike."

Nov. 17, 1808, she added a codicil to the will, in which she provides that "in case my Nephew Nathaniel Patten should die before the decease of his present wife I do hereby bequeath her the sum of One hundred dollars to be paid her yearly and every year from the time of my decease and so long as she shall remain a widow." In this codicil, also, she bequeaths her tomb in Chapel Church burying-ground to the children of Nathaniel Patten.

24. AARON [4] (William,[3] Nathaniel,[2] William [1]) was born in Medford, Apr. 16, 1717; married Dec. 6, 1739, Jane Ordway, of Newbury. July 6, 1748, she was appointed administratrix on her husband's estate. June 18, 1759, James Ordway was appointed, she probably having died. On the same date he was also appointed guardian to the four children, Rebecca and Lois above fourteen years of age, and Isaac and William under fourteen. Aaron Patten was admitted to the Second Church in Amesbury, Nov. 15, 1741, and dismissed "to church where he now lived" in 1744. This was Newbury.

Children:

i. Rebecca,[5] b. in Amesbury, Jan. 18, 1741; m. Apr. 21, 1765, Joshua Morse.

ii. Lois, b. Nov. 14, 1742; m. Apr. 16, 1767, David Ordway.

iii. Aaron, b. in Newbury, June 9, 1744. As he is not mentioned in the appointment of guardians in 1759, he probably died young.

iv. Isaac, b. Nov. 4, 1746. He lived in Newbury, where in 1768 he gave deed of land to Moses Emery, and his occupation is given as joiner. Later he went to sea, as in 1779 we find that William Patten, of Kingston, N. H., deeded to Joshua Morse, of Hopkinton, N. H., David Ordway and Isaac Patten, of Newbury, mariner, all his interest in land of his father Aaron Patten, late of Newbury. This is all that we find of him.

46. v. William, b. Jan. 27, 1749.

25. THOMAS [4] (William,[3] Nathaniel,[2] William [1]) was born in Medford, Feb. 20, 1719; married Jan. 10, 1745, Mary Tufts, who was the daughter of Jonathan and Sarah (Wait) Tufts, of Charlestown. She was born Nov. 22, 1722, and died at Medford, Aug. 28, 1764. He married second, Jan. 8, 1765, Mary Binford. He died Nov. 26, 1786. She died July 18, 1807. His occupation was brickmaker.

Children:

i. Mary,[5] b. July 10, 1747; m. Jan. 8, 1766, Henry Fowle, son of Henry and Dorothy Fowle, who was b. Mar. 15, 1741.

ii. Child, b. and d. Mar. 29, 1769.

FIFTH GENERATION

26. JOHN [5] (John,[4] Thomas,[3] Thomas,[2] William [1]) was born in Billerica, Mar. 21, 1745; married Mary Richardson, daughter of Jonathan and Lucy Clark Richardson, born in Dracut, June 19, 1753. They resided for a time in Andover, where they were admitted to the South Church by profession of faith on Feb. 6, 1774. They afterward removed to Temple, N. H., and it is said they were the first ones to go there in a covered carriage. To reach there they were obliged to follow marked trees. Mar. 29, 1782, they were dismissed from the church at Andover and transferred to the church at Temple, in which place they had already been living for some years. He was a private in Capt. Henry Abbott's company, which marched on the alarm of Apr. 19, 1775, and served one and one-half days. He served on the Committee of Correspondence and Safety in Temple, in 1777. In that year he served for forty days at Ticonderoga. In 1781 he was one of a committee of three on the erection of the new meeting-house. In 1777 he served as tithing-man; also in 1782, 1785, 1791, and 1792. He died Oct. 23, 1807. His wife died Feb. 1, 1834.

27. ELIJAH [5] (John,[4] Thomas,[3] Thomas,[2] William [1]) was born Nov. 21, 1751; married Lydia Stevens. They were published in March, 1773. Sept. 12, 1773, Elijah and Lydia Patten were admitted to the South Church in Andover, by profession of faith. According to the church records he died Oct. 18, 1774, aged 23 years. His widow remained in Andover until her death, the date of which is not given on the church records.

Elijah Patten, probably son of Elijah and Lydia, was received into the Andover church, by profession of faith, Oct. 24, 1802. He removed before 1812. At the same time Elsie O'Neal Patten, wife of Elijah, was received into the church.

In Essex county probate records we find that on May 5, 1815, a guardian was appointed for Stephen Holt Patten, a minor aged fourteen, son of Elijah Patten, late of Belfast, Me.

28. NATHANIEL [5] (Nathaniel,[4] Nathaniel,[3] Thomas,[2] William [1]) was born Mar. 19, 1733. He is said to have been born in Windham, Conn., and went from there to Stafford with his father, where he lived the rest of his life. He married, Nov. 3, 1763, Esther Shed, of Billerica. On the Billerica records his residence is given as Stafford. Esther Shed was the daughter of Capt. Benjamin and Elizabeth (Holland) Shed, and was born Feb. 4, 1738. By the Stafford records we find that on Apr. 7, 1766, Nathaniel Patten was admitted freeman and sworn. Apr. 10, 1780, at a freemen's meeting, it is recorded that Ensign Nathaniel Patten took the oath by law appointed for freemen. He died at Stafford, Dec. 17, 1813. The following epitaph is on his stone:

"Farewell all earthly joys
I go to prove
The endless pleasures
Of the Saints above."

Nathaniel and Esther Patten are buried in a small cemetery near West Stafford. On her stone is the inscription:

"Widow Esther relict of Ensign Nathaniel Patten, d. April 13, 1815, in the 77th year of her age.

"Cease then frail nature

30. WILLIAM [5] (Nathaniel,[4] Nathaniel,[3] Thomas,[2] William[1]) was born either in 1751 or 1752, according to the date on his tombstone. He lived in Stafford, and on Mar. 18, 1778, it is recorded that John and William Patten took the oath of fidelity appointed to be taken by the State of Connecticut. Also on Apr. 8, 1782, the same persons are recorded to have taken the oath by law appointed for freemen. He married Feb. 22, 1781, Abigail Bixby. William Patten served in the Third Company of the 2d Connecticut Regiment, Colonel Spencer. Date of enlistment, May 9, 1775. Date of discharge, Dec. 18, 1775. On a list of Revolutionary pensioners in 1840, his name appears, his age being given as 88 years. He was placed on the pension roll Nov. 26, 1833. He is buried at West Stafford near the cemetery where his brother Nathaniel is buried, in a newer burial-place. His stone states that:

"William Patten died at West Stafford, July 3, 1847, aged 95 years. The deceased was a member of the Congregational Church and as an expression of his attachment to the Church bequeathed to the Ecclesiastical Society Four Hundred dollars the interest of which is to be applied annually for the support of the Gospel."

34. THOMAS [5] (Thomas,[4] William,[3] Thomas,[2] William[1]) was born in Billerica, Apr. 2, 1734; married Sept. 15, 1765, in Lexington, Annie Woolson, daughter of Isaac and Sybil Woolson, born June 14, 1742. His residence was given as Watertown, where he was said to have gone to live about 1760. He served as selectman in 1786, 1787, 1789, 1790, and 1791. His occupation was that of saddler. He died Jan. 1, 1805. His wife died Jan. 5, 1800.

He served as a private in Capt. Phineas Sterns' company. His time of service was two days. In March, 1776, he marched from Watertown, by order of General Washington, to reinforce the army at the time of fortifying Dorchester Heights.

Children, born in Watertown:

i. John,[6] b. Sept. 12, 1766. In 1788 John Patten, a saddler of Watertown, sold to Francis Faulkner a saddler's shop. Afterward he went away and was lost at sea about 1801. He sailed from Norfolk, Va., and was never heard from.

At the time of his marriage his residence was given as of Bedford. His wife died Feb. 3, 1763. Afterward he went to Gouldsborough, Me., and then to Fosters' Island, Narraguagus Bay. He married in Gouldsborough, Amy Allen, born in Kittery. About 1773 Colonel Campbell, of Cherryfield, wishing that a tannery might be established there, offered to relinquish to Mr. Patten his settler's right or preëmption to thirty acres in the southern part of the large lot that he had taken up for himself and sons. This lot was subsequently confirmed to Mr. Patten as a settler by the proprietors of the township. The tannery was established near the creek, and an elm-tree set out by Mr. Patten is still standing.

37. WILLIAM [5] (Nathaniel,[4] Nathaniel,[3] Nathaniel,[2] William [1]) was born Mar. 11, 1738. He graduated from Harvard College in 1754, and received an honorary degree from Yale in 1759. He finished his collegiate education when quite young, having been admitted to Harvard at the age of twelve years. After graduation he taught school at Dedham, Mass., and pursued his theological studies there under the charge of Rev. Mr. Havens. He was licensed to preach and ordained at Halifax, Mass., Feb. 2, 1757, seven weeks before he was nineteen years of age. His predecessor there was Rev. John Cotton. He remained there until Sept. 5, 1766, when, owing to ill health, he asked for a dismissal. In 1767, owing to the ill health of Rev. Elnathan Whitman, who was settled over the South Church at Hartford in 1732, he was settled there as his colleague. Rev. Mr. Patten early showed a disposition for the ministry, as it is said that at the age of five years he composed a sermon on the first verse in the Bible which excited the surprise of his friends. From a history of the Second Church of Hartford, we learn that he was given a call Jan. 29, 1767. On Mar. 30, 1767, the following vote was passed by the society:

"Voted; That we will make and give to Rev. Mr. Patten, his heirs, etc., a lease for nine hundred ninety nine years, at the rate of one peppercorn per annum rent, of one acre of land belonging to this Society given us by Mrs. Ann Burnham, mother of Joseph Buckingham, Esq., late of Hartford, deceased, situate in said Hartford, lying South of the Meeting House of said Society; and said acre of land is that which lies next adjoining land the Society have leased out to Capt. Jonathan Seymour; and also the sum of three hundred and fifty pounds, lawful money as a settlement, to be paid in a reasonable time, provided he agree to settle in manner as above said, and said sum we oblige ourselves to pay in labor and materials suitable to build a house, barn, etc. . . . provided nevertheless, that if the said Mr. Patten should be called to any more public service, or shall of himself, or on his own account and default leave said society and cease from his work of the ministry among us, then, and in such case, he shall return to this society of the settlement we now agree to give him, in the manner as follows, viz.: If said Patten continues with us thirty years, no part of his settlement is to be returned; if he leaves us at the end of ten years, he is to return two thirds; if at the end of twenty years one third of his settlement; and we do agree that Mr. Patten shall have one acre of land to improve during his ministry, . . . next to his building lot."

Mr. Patten was installed Sept. 23, 1767. In the introduction to a book entitled "Interesting Family Letters," his son thus speaks of him: "In person Mr. Patten was above the middle stature — he was well formed, and there was a remarkable dignity connected with ease and grace in all his movements — his countenance was manly, his eye intelligent, and expressive. His voice was clear and sonorous, full and distinct — every tone adapted to the sentiment he uttered. The attention of every one was immediately arrested and fixed when he spake. His sermons were strictly evangelical, and very instructive and impressive. In prayer he had uncommon gifts — consisting, principally, of scripture expressions, judiciously selected and embodied and very appropriate. He was a diligent reader, and eminent in the acquisition of knowledge, there being but few subjects with which he was not acquainted. He appeared to have an intuitive view of every thing to which he attended, so as not to require a teacher."

His health failing him, he resigned his charge at Hartford, and in the fall of 1774 went to his father's house in Roxbury, where he died Jan. 16, 1775. A letter written by his father Jan. 24, 1775, says: "His remains lie with all the ministers that have been settled in Roxbury, since it was a town, and that have died in this parish."

He married June 9, 1758, Ruth Wheelock, daughter of Rev. Eleazer Wheelock, of Lebanon. She was born Mar. 4, 1744. Rev. Eleazer Wheelock was founder and president of Dartmouth College and died Apr. 24, 1779. Her mother was Sarah Davenport, daughter of Rev. John Davenport, the first minister of Stamford, Conn. He was son of Rev. John Davenport, founder and pastor of the first church in New Haven, and succeeded Wilson, Dec. 9, 1668, as pastor of a church in Boston. He was born in Coventry, England, in 1598, and died in Boston, Mar. 15, 1670. He was educated at Oxford, and in 1630 was minister of St. Stephen's Church in London.

The three daughters opened a school in Hartford which attained great celebrity; there were pupils from several of the West Indies as well as various parts of this country. Sometimes the school consisted of between two and three hundred pupils and perhaps thirty or forty were in the family as boarders. The brother George, after graduation from college, at first was inclined to a mercantile career, but gave this up and opened a school in a separate apartment from his sisters, taking charge of instruction of boys in literary branches and in the classics. When they closed their school in 1825, they could count up nearly four thousand pupils in whose education they had shared. In their school the time was divided between study, painting, embroidery, and some needlework.

Professor Thacher, of Yale College, in an article written for the Memorial History of Hartford County on his school-days in Hartford, says in part as follows:

"Mrs. Patten did not engage in teaching at the time of which I speak. Even her daughters were well advanced in years. But I well remember their gentleness and gentility and a certain combination of cheerfulness and sobriety which characterized them. Their long service in the trying profession of teaching had not soured them. From my own experience there I should say that they were especially conscientious in their quiet endeavors to awaken religious feeling in their pupils. They lived and taught in a plain mansion in Church Street, just west of the present site of Christ Church. The exterior of the house was not very inviting, but there is scarcely a more charming picture brought down in my memory from my childhood than the bright, cheerful apartment occupied as a sitting-room by the aged and still cheerful mother of this unique family. Her presence in it would have been enough to make it attractive to a child; but the slanting rays of the sun, the pots of flowers, and the Franklin fire, all have their place in the picture."

"There was a brother in this family who was well known as a teacher for upwards of twenty years, during which period he had in all three thousand pupils. His school was known as a 'Literary Institution.' In its earlier years it was open to both sexes, but at the time I attended it, as I did for three months, the scholars were all boys, and only the ordinary branches of a boy's education were taught. Mr. Patten was educated at Dartmouth College, and fitted boys for college as well as for business during a part of his life in Hartford." His school was kept in a room in a building on the west side of Main Street, just above Asylum Street.

When the brother died in 1830, it was the first death in the family for fifty-three years. Mrs. Patten was one of the founders of the Beneficent Society for the support and education of indigent orphan and neglected children. She was one of the first contributors to Williamstown College, to the Foreign Missionary Society, and to the Connecticut Bible Society. She died Dec. 5, 1831.

The following are parts of the inscriptions on their graves in Hartford:

"Rev. William Patten, who after a life of peculiar trials Died in great peace, At his father's house in Roxbury Mass, Jany. 16, 1775 in the 37th year of his age, and 18th of his ministry.

"Madam Ruth Patten Relict of Rev. William Patten and daughter of Rev Eleazer Wheelock D.D. Founder and first President of Dartmouth College N. H.

"She fell asleep in Jesus Dec. 5 1831 in the XCII year of her age.

"She was 78 years a member of the Church, was strong in faith, cheerful in trials, fervent in prayer, full of great works. A Mother in Israel."

"George J. Patten eminent in literature in social qualities and as a Teacher of youth. The Gospel was the ground of his hope."

38. JOHN[5] (John,[4] John,[3] Nathaniel,[2] William[1]) was born in Stoughton, Aug. 1, 1731; married Feb. 5, 1755, Abigail Makepeace, daughter of William and Experience (Aldrich) Makepeace, born in Norton, June 19, 1732. He was a blacksmith by trade, and settled in Norton, where he died Dec. 28, 1803. His wife died June 2, 1794. He was a private in Capt. George Makepeace's company, Col. John Daggett's regiment, in 1776, and served for twenty-five days. He was private in Capt. Samuel Robinson's company; enlisted June 21, 1778, and served twenty-two days at Rhode Island. Served in company raised to serve in Colonel Wade's regiment. He also served in Capt. Isaac Hodge's company, Colonel Carpenter's regiment; service from July 27, 1778, to Aug. 13, 1778; eighteen days at Rhode Island. This record is given for the father rather than the son, who was old enough to serve. As the son is reported to have been deformed and a hunchback, while the father was a strong, vigorous man, it has been generally supposed that the record belongs entirely to the father.

WILL OF JOHN PATTEN

"In the name of God, Amen. I John Patten of Norton in the County of Bristol in the Commonwealth of Mass. do make ordain and declare this instrument which is superinscribed with my name to be my last will and testament.

39. DAVID [5] (John,[4] John,[3] Nathaniel,[2] William [1]) was born probably in 1754; married Dec. 25, 1788, Sarah Daniels; the residence of both being given as Stoughton.

In 1789 he was living at Mansfield, as at that time he gave a deed of forty acres of land in Stoughton, " being part of the same belonging to my late father John Patten of Stoughton."

In 1790 he seems to be residing at Providence, as David and his wife Sarah on June 8, 1790, give a deed of land in Milton to Charles Daniels, the residence of David being given as Providence. David Patten, of Stoughtonham, served as private in Capt. Josiah Pratt's company, Colonel Lemuel Robinson's regiment, which marched on the alarm of Apr. 9, 1775, from Stoughtonham and Stoughton, and was in service four days; he also marched to Roxbury on an alarm Mar. 4, 1776, serving five and one-half days in Capt. Josiah Pratt's company, Colonel Gill's regiment. He also served in Capt. Lewis Whiting's company, Colonel Wheelock's regiment, as shown by a company return dated, Camp at Ticonderoga, Aug. 27, 1776. Age given as twenty-two years. This would indicate that he was born in 1754. He died at Foxboro, July 16, 1822. She died Nov. 18, 1819.

He was one of the pioneers of Westmoreland, N. Y., where they lived for seven years, and then bought some land that belonged to the Oneida Indians in Vernon, N. Y., and went there to live. They lived on what was called "Van Eps Patent," a half-mile west of Vernon Village. Feb. 17, 1802, the town of Vernon was organized, and at the first town meeting Josiah Patten was elected town clerk, which office he held for nine successive years. In 1811 he was elected supervisor. "Esquire" Patten held this office until 1819. He also served in the militia, as we find in the Military Minutes of the Council of Appointment of the State of New York for Oneida County, under date of Apr. 14, 1800, that Josiah Patten was appointed ensign of a military company. He only served until Oct. 31, 1800, when he was succeeded by his brother Jonathan. His daughter Julia at the age of 86 years wrote of him, saying: "His privileges in school were very limited. He got his learning by the light of a pine knot, when his work was done. We may call him a self-made man." He died Apr. 12, 1837. His wife died Mar. 5, 1858.

The following epitaph is on his tombstone:

"Heaven gives us friends to bless the present seen Resumes them to prepare us for the next."

The following is her epitaph:

"Sleep on my parent till the trumpets voice
Shall bid thee from thy lowly bed arise
With vigour new thy Spirit shall rejoice
To hail thy Saviour in thy native skies.
For thou did'st love Him dwelling here below
And of'times long'd to wing thy rapid flight
To see him in those realms when angels bow Veiling with golden wings their glories bright."

64. THOMAS[6] (Thomas,[5] Thomas,[4] William,[3] Thomas,[2] William[1]) was born in Watertown, July 22, 1769; married Nov. 14, 1793, Mary Roberdeau, in Alexandria, Va. She was born in Philadelphia, May 6, 1774, the daughter of Daniel and Polly Bostwick Roberdeau. Her father was born on the Island of St. Christopher, W. I., in 1727. When a young man he came to Philadelphia to live, and took an active part in the political proceedings of the times. In 1756 he was elected a member of the Pennsylvania Assembly, being chosen to that position six times, retiring to private life in 1761. He was a member of the Council of Safety of Pennsylvania in 1775. He was elected a brigadier-general in 1776. When commissioners were appointed to go to Paris in 1776, Congress not having provided funds for their outfit, General Roberdeau advanced $18,000 from his fortune to pay their expenses. In 1777 he was elected to Congress, to which position he was elected three times.

Thomas Patten was a merchant of Baltimore, Md., and of Alexandria, Va. He was engaged in the flour and produce trade in partnership with Col. Joseph May, who conducted the business in Boston. The firm of Patten, May & Co. failed about 1798, owing, it is said, to speculations in Georgia lands. His failure was also partly caused by loss of his ships at sea. His wife died Oct. 31, 1808.

After his wife's death he went to Louisiana with his eldest son. There he died at Monroe, La., Feb. 6, 1820, and was buried on the banks of the Washita. On her mother's death the care of the children fell on Mary Ann, and after her marriage her husband became their guardian and adopted them.

72. WILLIAM[6] (William,[5] Nathaniel,[4] Nathaniel,[3] Nathaniel,[2] William[1]) was born in Halifax, Mass., in 1766; married Sept. 20, 1796, Hannah Hurlbut, at New London, Conn. She was the daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth Hurlbut. She was born in New London, Dec. 12, 1769. William Patten took his degree at Dartmouth in 1783, and was ordained to the ministry May 24, 1786. He was settled over the Second Congregational Church at Newport, R. I., in 1786, and remained there about 48 years. In 1833 he retired and removed to Hartford, Conn., where he died in 1839. He was a fellow of Brown University and received from that institution the honorary degree of D. D. in 1807. He published several separate sermons, among them "Christianity the True Religion," a reply to Thomas Paine's "Age of Reason" (1795), and "Reminisciences of Rev. Samuel Hopkins."

His wife is said to have set up the first "ragged school," the precursor of the modern Sunday School, that was ever established in this country. She was assisted in this labor of Christian love by Miss Floride Calhoun, of South Carolina. Doctor Patten is represented as being a "distinguished theologian, meek and lowly in heart, most kind and benevolent."

In 1834 he published a book entitled "Memoirs of Mrs. Ruth Patten;" he also published one under the title of "Interesting Family Letters," being letters received by and written by his mother during her lifetime. He had a narrow escape from death during his last year at college. He was at his aunt's, and to get to church on Sunday it was necessary to cross a river much swollen by copious rains. Several of the party crossed in a boat, but William attempted to ford on his horse and lead the other horses, but in the middle of the stream he was thrown from his horse, and it was with much difficulty that he was rescued. After getting him from the river it was fifteen or twenty minutes before he could be brought to consciousness.

Mrs. Patten died in Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 30, 1855.

79. MOSES[6] (Willis,[5] Stephen,[4] William,[3] Nathaniel,[2] William[1]) was born in Amesbury, Aug. 10, 1772. He was apprenticed to a hatter and worked as a young man at this trade. In the latter part of the century he made some trips of exploration to the Penobscot, and finally decided to settle there. He married Apr. 11, 1801, his cousin Sally Whittier. She was the daughter of Col. Isaac Whittier, of Amesbury, who was a veteran of the Revolution. In November, 1801, Moses Patten with his brother Amos removed to Bangor, Me.

Moses Patten was agent for the proprietors of the towns of Exeter and Corinth, and did much in promoting the settlement of those towns and of the valley of the Penobscot.

With his brother he engaged in business in Bangor. They gradually extended their operations with good success until the troubles growing out of the embargo, non-intercourse, and finally the War of 1812, checked their business career. The capture of Bangor by the British fleet finally swept away their personal property, as it did of most of those engaged in business at that time. Moses Patten was a selectman of the town, and with his associates arranged the terms of the capitulation, which was made to prevent the destruction of the town. At the close of the war they resumed business, and having a large part of their real estate still in their hands, they were able to retain their place among the leading firms of the State, which position they had held for nearly thirty years. They retired from business in 1828, but in the panic of 1837 they met with heavy losses.

In 1809 he was commissioned as coroner by Governor Gore; in 1816 he received a commission from Governor Strong as Associate Justice of the Court of Common Pleas and Sessions, which commission was renewed by Governor Brooks in 1819. He was the first Justice of Peace appointed by Governor King, the first Governor of Maine. He was selectman of the town continuously from 1806 to 1818. Upon the organization of the City of Bangor, in 1834, he served for two years on the Board of Aldermen. He died at Bangor, Nov. 27, 1864. His wife died May 27, 1855.

88. NATHANIEL [6] (William,[5] John,[4] William,[3] Nathaniel,[2] William[1]) was born in Boston; married Oct. 28, 1792, Nancy Scott. He was one of the original incorporators of the Boston Marine Society. In March, 1807, the ropewalk and stock of Nathaniel Patten were destroyed by fire. The matter being laid before the Massachusetts Charitable Association, a committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions for his relief. This committee occasionally reported progress, and on one occasion reported subscriptions of $172 in cash and $60 in work. As his health was feeble the government voted $20 from the fund for his relief. The last report of the committee was that his health was re-established and no further appropriation was necessary.

As has been shown in 1809, at the death of their aunt

Sarah, the property of their great-grandmother, Priscilla Patten, was left in trust to be divided among Nathaniel's four children at their father's decease. Under date of Feb. 14, 1822, Nancy Patten, of Franklin, Howard Co., Missouri, states that she is " entitled to the sum of one hundred dollars annually out of the estate, which was of the said Sarah Patten in her lifetime, and whereas a certain lot or parcel of ground situated in said town of Boston was, by said last will and testament, given to Nathaniel Patten, Junior, Nancy Patten, Mary Burdick Patten and Sarah Patten and to their heirs and assigns, and whereas also the said persons are desirous of selling and disposing of the same," she appoints Henry Purkett and William Loring, of Boston, her true and lawful attorneys to attend to the same. June 12, 1822, Nathaniel Patten, a printer of Franklin, Howard Co., Missouri, appointed the same parties as his attorneys, and authorized them to sell the property on Beach Street. July 8, 1822, Isaac S. Nettleton and Nancy, his wife, of Springfield, Indiana, also gave them a power of attorney. Sept. 21, 1822, they gave deeds of the property; one for a third, being the interest of Sarah Patten, a minor of Franklin, Howard Co., Missouri; one for a third, being the interest of Nancy and Isaac S. Nettleton, of Springfield, Posey Co., Indiana; and one for a third the interest of Nathaniel Patten. They also give a deed in which they quitclaim for Nancy Patten any interest she may have in the premises, and in this deed they state that Mary Burdick Patten had died, leaving no issue. He died previous to 1822, his wife surviving him.

"Honoured Parent,

"With peculiar satisfaction I improve this favourable opportunity of writing a few lines in compliance with your request, although I have no very important news to relate to you. The engagement of the Chesepeak with his B. Majisties ship Shannon, appears to be a subject that occupies the publick attention, and about which they seem to be more anxious, than any other at present. We have had no farther information with regard to this engagement that can be relied on, we have had many vague reports concerning it, but nothing I think, that we can give credit to, except that she had an engagement, whether favourable, or unfavourable to us, remains yet to be determined. But if she be conquered, it will reflect no great honour on our enemy, since the Shannon was the best ship they had in their navy of her size, and had the best officers aboard that they could select, and besides their guns were considerably heavier than ours. It is said they mean to use their best endeavours to recapture the ship Macedonian, that they will either have her or loose their own ships, but I think they will be disappointed for the present. Our north-western army it appears have considerably retrieved their character of late by taking little York and fort George, and some other places the former of which was the capital of upper Canada, and the other a considerably fortified place. If our army meet with tolerable success this summer, it is my opinion they will accomplish their design by next autumn, that is, be in possession of all Canada. By that time I think our enemy will be willing to treat with us on honourable terms.

"It is said by the federalists that we are engaged in unnecessary war, with G. Britain that they have done us no material, or at least sufficient injury to declare war against them; that we might have had an honourable settlement with them if our government had been disposed to settlement and that the democrats were the whole cause of this war. But let us look into publick documents and see if this be the case. In the first place they have impressed our seamen, contrary to all laws and customs of nations, and endeavoured to injure our neutral rights by prohibiting our trade with other nations; this is said by a member of parliament. When they laid the orders in Counsil in retaliation to the Berlin decrees, they still gave licences to french vessels to trade from one port to another, while we could neither have licences nor be permitted to trade with any other nation, for all this injury we had given them no offence, therefore our government thought proper to lay an embargo on our shiping, which cut off all their trade with us which amounted to upwards of thirteen million a year; this caused a great complaint among their common people, and it injured them far more than it could us; for we could do better without their luxuries than they could do without our produce. therefore if the imbargo had been strictly adhered to, it is probable they would willingly have settled with us. But by the flattering stories of the federalists, always favouring them, and opposing their own government; by supporting such villains as Henery they have induced the enemy to persevere in their obstinacy. If we had been united among ourselves, and shewn them that we would not suffer our rights to be infringed and our national character to be insulted without satisfaction, in my opinion they would have been willing to settle with us long since. There is no doubt but that both parties in this country have suffered themselves too frequently to be influenced by prejudice and party spirit but it seems very misterious to me, that while both parties hope for the success of the navy; one party, the federalist should not be interested in the success of the army. If one is engaged in a just cause the (other) must be of course, since they are both fiting for the same thing. I think it best to support our own government in preference to any other, to favour neither England nor France since we are an independent nation and are able to support our rights. In the course of last term there were as many as twelve or fifteen hundred soldiers past this town for Sackets harbour. This weak Six hundred and fifty past in one body commanded by colonel Darnington, one hundred and fifty more passed yesterday as hardy stout looking soldiers as I ever saw. . . .

148. GEORGE WAYNFLETE [7] (William,[6] William,[5] Nathaniel,[4] Nathaniel,[3] Nathaniel,[2] William [1]) was born in Newport, R. I., Dec. 25, 1808. He graduated from Brown University in 1825, at the age of sixteen. He was a cadet at West Point from July 1, 1826, to July 1, 1830, when he graduated and commenced his services in the army, being made second lieutenant of the 2d Infantry July 1, 1830, and stationed at Fort Gratiot at the head of the St. Clair River. He served with General Scott on the frontier in the Black Hawk campaign. In 1833 he was ordered to Hancock Barracks at Houlton, Maine. In 1835 he went to Florida and fought under Generals Taylor and Garland through the seven years' conflict known as the "Seminole War." In 1836 he assisted in removing the Creek Indians from Georgia and Alabama. Feb. 13, 1837, he was made 1st lieutenant of 2d Infantry. From 1842 to 1846 he occupied the military post on Lake Ontario, and was promoted to captain June 18, 1846. He served in the war with Mexico, being engaged in the siege of Vera Cruz, and in the battle of Cerro Gordo, Apr. 17–18, 1847, where he lost part of his left hand while storming the heights. Apr. 18, 1847, he was brevetted major for gallant and meritorious conduct at the battle of Cerro Gordo. He was on recruiting service 1847–48, and again in 1850–52, being off duty in the interim on sick leave. He was on duty on the Pacific coast 1852–54, and on frontier duty in the West 1854–61. He was stationed at Fort Ripley, Minn., and afterward went to Dakota, where he built Fort Abercrombie in the midst of untamed and hostile Indians; he returned to Fort Ripley, where he remained until 1861. Apr. 30, 1861, he was made major of the 9th Infantry and ordered to California and thence to Vancouver, Wash. He was on duty on the Pacific coast 1861–63. June 7, 1862, he was made lieutenant-colonel of the 2d Infantry. Although his disability prevented him from seeing active service during the Civil War, yet he rendered valuable service as a member of various military commissions at Washington, 1863–65. Feb. 17, 1864, he was retired from active service "for disability resulting from long and faithful service, and from wound and exposure in line of duty."

He was the author of an army manual in 1863, and

"Tactics and Drill for Infantry, Artillery and Cavalry," in three volumes. He published numerous poems and has been called the "Poet Laureate of the Army." His lines include "The Seminole's Reply," "Joys That We've Tasted," "The Emigrant Child," a ballad in which the sufferings of a party of California emigrants are depicted, and the "Episode of the Mexican War," which he delivered in New York on the 31st anniversary of the capture of the City of Mexico. He had published in book form "Voices of the Border," a collection of poems.

He married in Woodstock, N. B., Apr. 7, 1834, Sarah Teresa Smith, daughter of Isaac B. and Lydia (Houlton) Smith, born Jan. 1, 1816. Isaac B. Smith was born in Woodstock, Dec. 28, 1790; died in Houlton, Me., in 1881. His father was Capt. Jacob Smith, a Long Island Loyalist, who served as a British officer under Lord Cornwallis during the Revolutionary War, and at the close of the war drew a British pension and went to Woodstock, accompanied by some of his soldiers, having been empowered by the English government to give each man one hundred acres of land and provisions for three years, and they were the first settlers of that town. He was married at Woodstock, N. B., June 29, 1813, to Lydia Houlton, being the second marriage performed in that town. Lydia Houlton was the daughter of Joseph and Sarah Teresa Houlton, of New Salem, Mass. Joseph Houlton went to Houlton, Me., in 1807, and was the founder of the town. Sarah Teresa Houlton before her marriage was Sarah Teresa Putnam, born at New Salem, Mass. Lieutenant-Colonel Patten died in Houlton, Me., Apr. 28, 1882. His wife died in the same place Oct. 16, 1885.

From C. H. Bell's "Bench and Bar of New Hampshire," we take the following: "Mr. Patten received his education at the academy in Kingston, and learned, and for fifteen years carried on, the trade of a wheelwright. He was popular and ambitious, and, receiving the commission of justice of the peace and having much facility in the drawing of deeds and contracts, he became the magistrate and practically the conveyancer of his town. The statute of the State allowed him easy access to the courts as an attorney, and he subsequently applied himself to the study of the law so that he was admitted to the bar. He was a representative in the legislature from 1855 to 1858 and in 1872; a State senator in 1861 and 1862, and a member of the Executive Council in 1867 and 1868. In 1871 Dartmouth College gave him the honorary degree of A. M. He was a fluent, ready man with much executive force, and made the utmost of his powers and his position."

In 1860 he accepted the position of professor in the academic department of Washington University at St. Louis. In 1861 he entered the Harvard Law School. In October, 1861, immediately after the battle of Balls Bluff he applied for a commission and was commissioned 2d lieutenant of the 20th Mass. Volunteers. In the Peninsular Campaign in 1862 he was wounded in the leg. After a brief furlough he rejoined his regiment, and was in the thickest of the fight at South Mountain and Antietam. He was commissioned 1st lieutenant Oct. 1, 1862, and captain, May 1, 1863. For three months from the middle of May, 1863, he was in command of the regiment. June 20, 1864, he was commissioned major. At the battle of Weldon R. R. by his gallantry he checked the advance of the rebel column and saved the day. He was severely wounded at Deep Bottom, Aug. 16, 1864, from the effects of which he died at Philadelphia, Sept. 10, 1864. After his death the commission of brigadier-general by brevet was conferred upon him upon recommendation of General Meade for gallantry and good conduct at the battle of Deep Bottom. After his death his body was taken to Kingston, and after the obsequies there it was sent to Cambridge and there buried at Mount Auburn with impressive ceremonies conducted by the Reverend Presidents Walker and Hill and Reverend Dr. Peabody.

C., now president of Howard University, Birmingham, Ala., wrote in one of a series of articles entitled, "Pupils of Other Days," the following tribute to him:

"Another pupil I recall distinctly, and with pleasure, blended with pain, Conrad M. Patten, son of a gentleman and lady of fine social position, living then in Georgetown, now West Washington, was, if I may single out one from so many, the purest, cleanest young man I ever knew. A leader in his class, strong in mind, pure in heart, gentle, ever courteous, he was perhaps the first student of his time in the Columbian University. He was a boy whom it was pleasant to teach, whom it was a privilege to know, whom it was an honor to love. Scorning deceit, he was never offensive in parading candor; fond of fun, he was ever respectful and considerate of others; standing at the head of his class, he was a stranger to vanity; faithful to his vows to God, he adorned the institution whose student he was. Going to Harvard, he stood there for all that he had stood for at Washington. While yet a Harvard student, in the bloom of young manhood, with the future beckoning him on to home joys, to a larger career in the world of which his college course had been happy augury, to service for the Master, he died. 'Beyond the serene and shining pathway of the stars,' he waits for those of us who loved him here; he serves there Him whose child he was here. Such souls, making earth brighter and happier, add sweetness to our hope of heaven, and, in moments of heart exultation, call us from the strife here to the peace there."
